IMRAN-BAITER ASIM MUNIR APPOINTED PAK ARMY CHIEF

Lt Gen Munir is a former top spy, having served as chief of the Inter-Services Intelligence and the Military Intelligence | P9,12

WILL TAKE CHARGE BY THE END OF THIS MONTH

However, his stint as the spy chief at the ISI was the shortest ever as he was replaced by Lt Gen Faiz Hamid within eight months on the insistence of then-prime minister Imran Khan in 2019. Munir will take up the most powerful position in the coup-prone country following Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa's retirement on November 29 after two consecutive three-year terms

UNLIKELY TO BREACH CEASEFIRE WITH INDIA

- Pakistan President Arif Alvi, who was earlier associated with Imran's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party, flew to Lahore to meet the former cricketer to hold consultation on the appointment
- According to experts, Munir is unlikely to breach the ceasefire pact with India as his focus will be sorting out domestic issues

Families meet ex-Navy officers in Qatar custody

Embassy seeking further consular access

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

FAMILIES of some of the eight former naval officers detained in Qatar since August-end have been able to meet them, though there is no word yet on their release. There are also reports suggesting that relatives of the others in custody have been asked to fly to Doha from India to meet them.

On Thursday, families of the eight former officers got to interact with Indian envoy Deepak Mittal at a 'Meet the Ambassador Open House' session organised by the Indian Embassy in Doha. While some of them met him in person, others got to speak to him online.

"Only family members were permitted to ask questions and on a one-on-one basis. The details of course have been kept under wraps. Indian Ambassador to Qatar Dr Deepak Mittal spoke with them. Queries by those other than the family members were not addressed," sources said.

The Indian Embassy in Doha had issued a circular earlier saying they would be ready to listen/redress any urgent consular issues or grievances of Indian nationals in Qatar.

It has been close to three months since the eight former naval officers were taken into custody by the State Security Bureau (Ministry of Interior, Qatar). There is hope but no clarity on when these officers will be repatriated to India.

Vice President Jagdeep Dhankar's visit to Doha on the invitation of the Qatar government to attend the inaugural ceremony of FIFA 2022 had raised hopes of the release of these eight ex-officers. Though Dhankar did have a private audience with the Amir of Qatar, Sheikh Tamim bin Hamad Al Thani, there is no clarity on whether he raised it with him. The meeting wasn't structured, according to the Ministry of External Affairs.

India's embassy is regularly raising the matter with the Qatari authorities and seeking further consular access. It has also flagged the issue of fugitive Islamist Zakir Naik with Qatar but the country clarified that it had not issued an invite to him, MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said.

State govt finally hands over M'luru blast case to NIA

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE state government has handed over the November 19 Mangaluru blast case to the National Investigation Agency (NIA) after the provisions of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967, were invoked.

TNIE, on November 23 had first reported that the Mangaluru blast case in which the prime accused Mohd Shariq, who was carrying the pressure cooker IED in an autorickshaw was injured along with the auto driver Purushottam Poojary following a blast, will be handed over to the NIA after the UAPA was invoked.

As per procedure, the state government on Thursday wrote to the Home Ministry stating that based on the investigation in the case (119/2022) including the examination of materials recovered and evidence collected so far by the police, Sections 16, 38 and 39 of the UAPA on punishment for committing a terrorist act, being a member of a terrorist organisation and intention to further the activity of a terrorist organisation, have been invoked. "And since, this (UA(P)A) was a scheduled offence, which falls under Section 6 of the NIA Act the matter has been submitted to the MHA for necessary and further action," informed sources told TNIE.

The Mangaluru blast case was registered under Explosive Substances Act and Sections 419, 465, 471, 120(B) and 307 of the Indian Penal Code for punishment for cheating by personation, forgery, fraudulently and dishonestly using a forged document or electronic record as genuine and attempt to murder along with sections of the UA(P)A by the Kankanady Town police station.

The NIA was roped into the investigation from day one of the investigation because of the nature of the blast.

Meanwhile, Shariq continues to be in the ICU and is still not in a condition to give any statement to the police.

Little-known outfit claims responsibility

A little-known outfit, Islamic Resistance Council (IRC), has reportedly claimed responsibility for the Mangaluru blast that injured two persons, including the prime suspect Mohammed Shariq P4

All-party meeting next week on K'taka-Maha border row: Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru/Belagavi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said all issues related to the border row with Maharashtra, including Maharashtra Chief Minister's remarks on resolving it amicably through talks, will be discussed at the all-party leaders' meeting next week.

Bommai said they have taken note of Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde holding meetings to discuss the border row and his remarks about talks and all these developments will be discussed during the meeting that he has convened next week. "They have filed the case in the Supreme Court and we are fully prepared to present our arguments. We have strong grounds," he said.

Bommai said a decision to fight the case in Supreme Court was taken at an all-party meeting and in the Border Development Authority and now the government is only focussed on presenting its arguments before the SC.

The CM said the border dispute is over after the States Reorganization Act was enacted, but the Maharashtra government is raking it up. "The resolution of Gram Panchayat (in the border area) and other related issues are with us. All these will be debated in the Supreme Court," the CM said.

A day after Bommai and Maharashtra Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis sparred over the boundary dispute between both states, Shinde said the dispute should be resolved through discussions. Shinde said the Maharashtra government held a meeting with regard to the boundary issue recently. "The issue should be resolved through talks and that has been the Maharashtra government's stand," he said.

They (Maharashtra) have filed a case in the Supreme Court and we are fully prepared to present our arguments.

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

On Wednesday, Fadnavis had tweeted, "Not even a single village from Maharashtra will go to Karnataka. The Maharashtra government will fight in the Supreme Court to claim Belagavi, Karwar, Nipani and other Marathi areas on the border."

In response, Bommai reacted on Twitter, stating that Fadnavis issued provocative statements with on the boundary dispute. Fadnavis' dreams will never come true. Karnataka state is committed to protecting its land, water and borders."

Shinde recalled the meeting that the governors of Karnataka and Maharashtra held recently in which the issue of boundary dispute also was discussed and said even the Centre too had shown a satisfactory response to the issue.

Whitefield to KR Puram stretch to open by mid-March

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE much-awaited Metro line between Whitefield and Baiyappanahalli (Reach-1 extension) is set for launch in two phases, with the 13-km stretch between Whitefield and KR Puram to be operational by mid-March 2023. The need to erect steel girders (bridge) above the railway crossing before Baiyappanahalli depot, has ensured that this small 2.5-km segment will not be ready for launch any time soon.

Testing and commissioning of the completed portion between Whitefield and Garudacharpalya is on at present.

Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) Managing Director Anjum Parwez told TNIE, "We will be extending testing and commissioning works between Whitefield and Garudacharpalya by two more stations till KR Puram. BMRCL will be in a position to operate trains from Whitefield to KR Puram by mid-March next year. We are looking at inviting the commissioner of Metro Rail Safety for inspection by February."

This 13-km stretch will have 12 Metro stations: Whitefield, Channasandra, Kadugodi, Pattandur Agrahara, Sadarmangala, Nallurhalli, Kundalahalli, Sitharama Palya, Hoodi Junction, Garudacharpalya, Saraswati Nagar and KR Puram. P2

Modern edu & dress code in madrasas

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand Waqf Board on Thursday announced the introduction of NCERT syllabus and modern school uniform instead of the traditional kurta-pyjama, in madrasas run by it from next academic year. Clerics, however, criticised the radical shift in the dress code, calling it an attack on the madrasa education culture.

"NCERT syllabus and dress code will be implemented in madrasas under the Waqf Board in Uttarakhand from the next academic session," Waqf Board chairman Shadab Shams told this newspaper. "Initially, seven out of the 103 madrasas managed by the Uttarakhand Waqf Board will be run as modern schools. Children of other religions, too, can join them," he said.

In the first phase, two madrasas each in Dehradun, Udham Singh Nagar and Haridwar and one in Nainital district have been selected for the revamp. The new system will be extended to other madrasas by and by. "It is certain that the culture of lungi, tehmat or kurta-pyjama in madrasas will not work in future," he added.

Guj judge not on collegium transfer list

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court collegium on Thursday appeared to have held back its proposal to transfer Gujarat High Court judge Nikhil S Kariel to the Patna High Court following concerns last week over ad hoc shifting in the higher judiciary.

Justice Kariel was among three judges — the other two were from the Telangana and Madras high courts — who were proposed to be transferred. The transfer of the other two judges — Justice T Raja from Madras HC to Rajasthan HC and Justice A Abhishek Reddy from Telangana HC to Patna HC — was formalised at the collegium meeting. In all, proposals to transfer seven high court judges were recommended (see table).

Name of judge	HC from	HC to
V M Velumani	Madras	Calcutta
Battu Devanand	AP	Madras
D Ramesh	AP	Allahabad
Lalitha Kanneganti	Telangana	Karnataka
Dr D Nagarjun	Telangana	Madras
T Raja	Madras	Rajasthan
A Abhishek Reddy	Telangana	Patna

When news broke on November 17 on the proposed transfer of the three judges citing administrative reasons, Bar associations in Gujarat and Telangana were voceferous in their protests immediately. The Tamil Nadu Bar association lodged its protest a day later.

The Gujarat High Court Advocates Association called it a death knell to the independence of the judiciary and announced indefinite abstention from work.

Jama Masjid bans entry of girls, revokes fiat after flak

ASHISH SRIVASTAVA @ New Delhi

DELHI's iconic Jama Masjid on Thursday issued an order prohibiting the entry of unaccompanied girls into the mosque complex but withdrew it later following public outrage and the intervention of Delhi Lieutenant-Governor V K Saxena.

"Jama Masjid mein ladki ya ladkiyon ka akele daakhla mana hai (solitary entry of girl or girls is not permitted in Jama Masjid)," read the order, pasted on the entrance gates of the 17th century Mughal-era mosque that attracts thousands of devotees as well as tourists.

The decree drew the ire of gender activists who termed it regressive. Later, Shahi Imam Syed Ahmed Bukhari withdrew the order after Delhi L-G Saxena requested him. "We have removed the notice boards. But people visiting the mosque have to maintain its sanctity," Bukhari said. The mosque committee, however, sought to justify the order saying it was issued to prevent "improper" and "vulgar" acts done by youngsters in the mosque complex.

State govt tells ailing cadet's mother to return salary

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Hubballi

AN ailing NDA cadet's mother, who works as a headmistress in a government high school, has been asked by the state government to remit the salary she availed when she was on leave to care of her son.

Kishan Kulkarni, the only son of Bharati Joshi, was training at National Defence Academy (NDA), Pune in July 2020, when he fell sick. Initially, Bharati was not allowed to accompany him as the Covid-19 was at its peak. Eventually, when she was allowed to meet Kishan in December 2020, she took leave till April 2022.

Alhough the headmistress aproved her leave by following the rules and also apprised her higher-ups in the Education Department, questions are now being raised over the leave sanctioned as well as the salary drawn by her during that period. As per a letter sent by the office of the Accountant General, she took 40 days of commuted leave and 90 days of earned leave between December 12, 2020 and April 13, 2021.

However, 360 days availed by her as Child Care Leave from April 13, 2021 to April 7, 2022 has come under scanner as the AG's office has questioned the authority under which such leave was sanctioned and also sought details on recovery and remittance of the excess amount drawn between January 1, 2021 and April 7, 2022. Road dug up at night, clueless officials battle traffic snarls

BBMP chief says police can file complaint

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE main road at Aiyappanagar in KR Puram saw massive traffic snarls on Thursday morning during peak hours after the road, without any prior intimation, was dug up on Wednesday night.

The traffic police and the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) were short of answers to the baffling situation in the morning. They were clueless as to who dug up the road at night, and battling to manage the traffic flow without any plans in place.

Sub inspector Syed Nizamuddin from KR Puram Traffic Division said that when the jurisdictional ACP of the jurisdiction had passed through that road on Wednesday night, the condition of the road was normal. Around 7:30 am, there were calls from the public to resolve the traffic woes as the road has become slushy due to rain, resulting in massive jams, he added.

"We have not given permission. This is illegal. The traffic situation was terrible till 11 am. I, along with my staff and volunteers, filled up the dug up road. If someone comes and files a complaint, we will take action," said Nizamuddin.

BBMP Chief Engineer of Zone N Lokesh reiterated what the police said about giving no permission. "Sometimes, permissions are directly sought from the Palike head office. However, it is mandatory to keep us informed so that we can put caution tapes and make necessary arrangements," he said.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said that the police can take a photo of the spot and file a complaint.

Tahsildar suspended for helping SWD promoters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Revenue department placed Bengaluru East tahsildar Ajith Kumar Rai under suspension for allegedly helping storm water drain encroachers obtain a court stay by delaying action which led to a halt in the demolition drive.

As per orders, the official apparently violated Rule 3 (i) (ii) (iii) of the Karnataka Civil Service (Conduct) Rules, 2021 by acting in a manner unbecoming of an employee, besides dereliction of duty. It was decided to take disciplinary action against the person concerned.

Apart from suspension, the officer will face a probe. He was demoted as assistant director at Directorate of Social Security and Pensions, District Collector's Office, Bengaluru Rural and shall not leave the premises without permission from a competent authority.

Recently, Rainbow Drive Layout on Sarjapur Road was flooded due to rain. It was revealed that the district administration had conducted a survey of Rainbow Drive layout and found that it had allegedly encroached a canal and built villas. A notice was served to the owners to vacate the villas, it was learned that the Tehsildar failed to take action in this regard. The BBMP, which had launched the demolition drive after severe flooding in Mahadevapura due to storm water drain encroachment, had to stop as over 30 owners approached court and obtained a stay. Now it is being suspected that the revenue official may have helped more encroachers to obtain stay.

BMRCL to operate buses from KR Puram

BMRCL will operate buses from KR Puram Metro Station to ferry commuters who want to reach Baiyappanahalli Metro Station until this portion is commissioned, the MD said.

Pending girder work between Benniganahalli and Baiyappanahalli stations has begun. "We have obtained the No Objection Certificate from Railways. The major constraint is that work can be taken up only when Railways is able to take a line block on this busy section," he said. This stretch would become operational by June-end, Parwez said.

"Two major pending works for running trains have been completed on this line. We had to raise the height of Baiyappanahalli depot so that trains can reach. Work at Whitefield depot is necessary for running trains, like tracks and landing platform," he said.

METRO MAX FARE MAY GO UP

BMRCL is likely to hike the maximum fare from the existing Rs 60 to bolster its financial position, with the Fare Fixation Committee to take the final decision. The last fare hike was about five years ago in June. The three-member panel comprises a high court judge, a state government official and a central government official. Dr EV Ramana Reddy, additional chief secretary, Industries and Commerce department, has been nominated to the committee in place of former BMRCL MD Pradeep Singh Kharola after his retirement. BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez said, "The network of Bengaluru Metro has increased from 42.3 km in phase-I to 56.1 km due to the addition of Mysuru Road-Kengeri and Yelachenahalli to Silk Institute Lines. But the maximum fare remains Rs 60, which will not be sustainable for the long-run. The network will be further extended from Whitefield to KR Puram by March next year, which necessitates the hike," he said.

TRAIN DERAILS, COACHES ABLAZE: DRILL FOR LIFE-SAVING SKILLS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO ensure that railway staffers across the country are prepared and trained adequately to tackle major emergencies and accidents, the Indian Railway Institute of Disaster Management at Hejjala in Ramanagara on Thursday simulated two train accidents -- derailment of six coaches and two coaches on fire. The institute also arranged for 70 dummy bodies too.

Speaking to TNIE, Joint Director of the Institute, Jayant Ramachandran said, "This is the first major mock drill undertaken by the institute involving around 400 people. We simulated the derailment of six coaches between 10am and noon. In another situation, a train was ablaze for an hour after that."

A total of 170 staffers from Railways, 50 from the NDRF and 150 from the SDRF, homeguards and Civil Defence personnel took part, who were assisted by 15 medical staffers from the Railway Hospital in Bengaluru.

The mock drill began at 10 am. "The Railway staffers were split into three groups called Cheetahs, Jaguars and Panthers. They had to take responsibility of two coaches each along with other rescue units. Using various tools, they had to rescue the passengers or carry the dummy bodies to the first-aid centre," Ramachandran said.

"Within two hours, they rescued over 100 passengers," he added. Two coaches were set ablaze in the afternoon and the Karnataka Fire and Emergency Services doused them quickly, he said. These activities are part of the ongoing week-long Advanced Disaster Management Course.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

25th November: Aquarian alignments make for a day which is both serious and light-hearted. Perhaps, light-hearted in a serious way! I know I'm being vague but Aquarius is such a difficult sign to pin down. One thing Aquarius does deal with is infinite possibility. What I mean is that if there's anything new that you ever wanted to try, now could be the time.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's rather special Moon figures high in your list of planetary priorities, raising the temperature at work and in any legal questions. It also stimulates your creative energies. The most important consideration is to know your rights and stand up for yourself.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Personal projects which once looked fraught with difficulty and beset by obstacles, now seem to be strangely free from problems. The only remaining complications could be financial, though with excellent chances of improvement. It all depends on your sense of timing.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Everything now hinges around your ability to get on with other people. Indeed, it seems as if they have the whip hand, so your best chance may be to agree with their every word, and accept that it can be pleasant to allow others to take the initiative. Your turn will come very soon.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
By all accounts you will have little time left over after completing all those steadily increasing tasks and duties. You'll be burning the candle at both ends, but you'll be no use to anyone if you overdo it, least of all to yourself. Take it one step at a time.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Financial extravagance is the key today, and the ripples arising from current risks and commitments will be felt for at least two weeks, if not twelve months. Sporting types should be on course for triumphs and trophies, so aim to improve on your personal best.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
This is a remarkable moment for improvements in family relationships and welcome changes in all domestic conditions. Accept that an element of uncertainty is inevitable, but don't let that put you off. After all, someone who has disagreed with you will soon see the error of their ways.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your nomadic qualities are being stirred up. Short journeys are likely to be made on the basis of family needs, rather than pleasure, but there is bound to be stimulation for you in encountering new places and environments. The more you travel, the richer your experience will be.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You appear to be locked into a set of financial attitudes and commitments that no longer suit your requirements or talents. Other people must now make it clear that they back you to the hilt, otherwise there is no reason why you should continue to do your best for them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Today's lunar alignments influence all that is most special to you, arousing hope for the future. Don't worry if your ideas are still unclear, but recognise that prestige and professional projects are about to take off. All they need is one last almighty push.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There is so much going on behind the scenes that you might feel as if you are to be sucked in to something that is only half-understood. You may wish to distance yourself from people who are unnecessarily aggressive. If they are intent on confrontation, then that is their business - and nothing to do with you!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You need more credit - and partners may not deserve as much sympathy as you have given them. However, you could have little choice in the matter, and you will almost certainly be obliged to listen to their complaints. You never know - you may even come out with the advice they've been waiting for.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may have to choose between two simple options - partnership or career, love or work. So much hope seems to be tempered by seemingly impossible choices. Sit this one out if you wish, in spite of the pressure to act. You should never let other people push you into action before you're ready.

House owners! Play it safe, check tenants' background, warn cops

More vital now after Mangaluru blast where suspect rented house using fake Aadhaar card

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

EVEN though it is not mandatory for building owners to get the background of their tenants checked, police top brass have advised them to do it for their safety.

In the background of the recent Mangaluru bomb blast, senior police officers have urged the owners to take that extra effort to get the antecedents of the tenants checked in their jurisdictional police station. As long as nothing happens, the owners will not be in trouble. In case of any untoward incident, the first thing any police do is check the house where the suspects were staying and this is when the role of the owners becomes crucial. The house owners have all the rights to collect the identity proof of the tenants while making a rental agreement.

The same copy can be verified from the jurisdictional police. The police will check in their records and will confirm whether the tenant has any previous history of criminal activities.

Speaking to TNIE, Additional Commissioner of Police, Law and Order (East) Dr A Subramanyeswara Rao said that background verification is an option. "It is not mandated and we need to see what to do about it. But we have been issuing advisories. The owners will be on safer side if they get their tenants background verified," he added.

"We have been continuously giving advisories to building owners to check the antecedents of the tenants before renting out their properties. When raids happen on the residents of drug peddlers, who are mostly foreign nationals, the owners will also be booked if they do not have the identity proof of the tenants. In the background of the recent Mangaluru incident, every house owner should ensure that the tenants background is verified," Sandeep Patil, Additional Commissioner of Police, Law and Order (West), told The New Indian Express.

In case of foreign nationals, house owners must collect the copy of the passport along with other travel documents and for locals, an Aadhaar card is enough.

FRIVOLOUS PLEAS: DON'T TREAT US LIKE DUSTBIN, COURT SLAMS GOVT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

COMING down heavily on the state government for "having scant regard for the judicial time wasted due to the cavalier fashion of filing numerous meritless petitions", ignoring the opinion of the law department, the Karnataka High Court directed the government to calculate the cost of such frivolous petitions and recover it from the officer concerned, if such petitions are not entertained by the court.

IN THE HC

"The high court cannot be treated like a dustbin by the largest litigant," the court observed, referring to the state government.

It also directed the government to circulate the litigation policy called 'Karnataka State Dispute Resolution Policy 2021' formulated by the Law department to avoid unnecessary litigations, to the heads of all departments and stakeholders, and conduct workshops to educate them about the policy and its implementation.

A division bench of Justice G Narendar and Justice PN Desai passed the order while dismissing the petition filed by the Home department, challenging the Karnataka Administrative Tribunal order which set aside charges against retired assistant sub-inspector Rahamathulla, in a disproportionate assets case registered by Lokayukta police in 2014.

> We feel the time has come where this court is required to send a message to the biggest litigant, the state government, and that merely because it is the biggest litigant, it will not be a license to enable it to file all and sundry cases, which eat into valuable judicial time
> High Court

"We feel the time has come where this court is required to send a message to the biggest litigant, the state government, and that merely because it is the biggest litigant, it will not be a license to enable it to file all and sundry cases, which eat into valuable judicial time. The irony is that the state is one of the prime movers to popularise the Alternate Dispute Resolution System. In this background, the state cannot be the reason for the docket explosion," the court said.

Referring to the case against the ASI, the court observed that the enquiry officer has taken assets possessed by the ASI before he entered service, and reported that the charges are proved.

Desisting from imposing the exemplary cost of Rs 10 lakh on the government, the court made it clear that this shall be treated as a last warning.

Little-known outfit claims responsibility for M'luru blast

Police verifying veracity of information, genuineness of organisation Islamic Resistance Council

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

A little-known outfit Islamic Resistance Council (IRC) has reportedly claimed responsibility for the November 19 Mangaluru blast that injured two persons, including the prime suspect Mohammed Shariq.

The unverified post emerged on Thursday and according to sources, it was a one time post allegedly uploaded through the dark web. The Karnataka police are verifying whether such organisation exists and are checking the authenticity of the post.

The post bears the date November 23 with the letterhead of IRC and a photograph of Shariq. In the post in English, IRC has allegedly stated, "We, the Islamic Resistance Council would like to convey a message. One of our Mujahid brother Mohammad Shariq attempted to attack Hindutva temple in Kadri, a bastion of the saffron terrorists in Mangaluru. Although this operation didn't meet its objectives, we still consider it a success from a trade craft and tactics point of view as the brother in spite of being wanted and being pursued by the state and central intelligence agencies, was not only able to successfully evade them but even prepared and mounted an attack. As for the premature explosion that resulted in the arrest of the brother, this is a possibility that always exists with all military and subversive operations. As for those rejoicing in the arrest of the brother, we say that your joy will be short lived and you will reap the fruits of your oppression soon," the unverified post read, also warning ADGP (Law & Order) Alok Kumar.

The post further justified the blast saying, "We have been forced into this war and path of resistance by the fascists and we are only responding to the worst forms of state terrorism. We are only retaliating because an open war has been declared upon us, because mob lynching has become a norm, oppressive laws and legislations are passed to suppress us and interfere in our religion. Our innocents are languishing in prisons and public places reverberate with calls of our genocide," the post added.

When approached, Alok Kumar told TNIE, "We are checking the veracity of the contents and genuineness of the organisation."

The blast occurred in Mangaluru on November 19 a few hours after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai visited the coastal city. The blast occurred at Naguri minutes after the passenger Shariq who faked identity in the name of one Premraj Kutagi hired an autorikshaw of Purushotham Poojary to Pumpwell. Shariq is now recorded as the prime accused in the case and the state police have established his link with the Islamic State. ADGP Alok Kumar had claimed Shariq was influenced and inspired by a terror organisation having global presence.

Shariq was earlier involved in terror graffiti case in Mangaluru and is facing UAPA case. He went absconding after he was booked in another terror case and is said to be handled by wanted terror suspects Abdul Matheen Taha and Arafath Ali from his native Theerthahalli.

Shariq is currently undergoing treatment at a private hospital in Mangaluru.

VOTER DATA THEFT CASE

CEC TEAM IN B'LURU, COLLECTS INFO

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SENIOR officials from the Central Election Commission (CEC) on Thursday visited Bengaluru and collected information from Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) officials in connection with the voter data theft case.

Ajay Bhadoo, Deputy Election Commissioner and BC Patra, Secretary, gathered information on preparation of draft voters list, alleged voters data tampering by Chilume NGO which was roped by the BBMP for SVEEP activity and reports of deleted names of voters.

Based on directions of Bhadoo, officials have been visiting offices of the electoral registrars of 28 assembly constituencies in Bengaluru and a few other segments for the past few days.

Tushar Girnath, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Chief Commissioner, issued instructions to his officials and asked them to collect and submit all relevant documents, including the latest report against the Chilume NGO and action taken report against BBMP revenue officers for supplying fake ID cards.

The BBMP has already suspended three Revenue Officers (ROs), Bheema Shankar, Chandrashekar and Suhail S, in connection with the case. It is said that more ROs are likely to come under the scanner.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike sources said that the officials from Delhi also directed the Palike to check for duplication of names in different assembly segments. "We were also told to add more number of young and first time voters to the list and we are at it," said an official.

THINNING CROWDS AT BJP FUNCTIONS WORRIES PARTY

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE dip in attendance of people at several public functions organised by the BJP in the state has become a cause for concern for the party.

The crowd at the party's SC/ST Samavesha at Ballari was less than a fifth of what was expected. While the expected number was about 3 to 4 lakh, less than 60,000 people attended. The recent public function addressed by PM Modi near the Kempegowda International Airport also attracted a small crowd. As per one estimate, of the 1 to 1.5 lakh crowd expected, there were less than 50,000 people. The BJP's much-hyped campaign Jana Sankalpa Yatra also received a poor response at Kapu in Udupi.

BJP General Secretary Ravi Kumar claimed that 2.5 lakh people had been mobilised to attend the SC/ST Samavesha, but due to logistical issues they could not be brought to the venue. "Many were stranded at different places and could not make it to the venue". Asked about the small crowd at Kapu following which visuals of empty chairs went viral on social media, Ravi Kumar said, "Yes, we are aware of it. But that was because there was another event -- Srirama Temple Ratha programme organised by Kalladka Prabhakar Bhat — and the crowds got divided." He however claimed, "There were enough crowds at the recent functions addressed by PM Modi in Bengaluru at most venues and there is no cause for concern." One source informed that the buses sent to pick up crowds returned without sufficient numbers.

Political analyst B S Murthy said, "The videos and photographs of crowds show a large number of empty chairs. It is hard to hide poor attendance. Inept and corrupt lower-rung leaders are to blame for poor attendance."

Ravikumar said, "In some instances, we ourselves tried to keep the numbers small due to traffic and other concerns."

BJP encashed Mesta death, failed as a govt, claims Cong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kumta (Uttara Kannada)

BRANDISHING the 'B-report' submitted by the CBI in the Paresh Mesta case, the Congress sounded the poll bugle in coastal Karnataka, claiming there had been no development during BJP rule, and that it had politically encashed cases of the dead, like Mesta.

The party promised to have an exclusive manifesto for development, and establish a full-fledged multispeciality hospital if the party comes to power. At a party convention to 'Educate people about BJP's misdeed — politicising the death of Paresh Mesta during the 2018 elections', the Congress kickstarted its 2023 Assembly campaign.

At a rally of about 5,000 people, the party went hammer and tongs against the BJP, with allegations ranging from gaining power through the backdoor, zero development, communalisation, to rise in fuel prices and essential commodities.

KPCC President D K Shivakumar described the BJP as "corrupt and power-hungry" and alleged that voters' names are going missing from the poll roll. "They have deleted names of voters who will not vote for them. I have complained to the Election Commission," he said. He claimed that those who had left the party during Operation Lotus are returning.

Mentioning various irregularities and discontinuation of schemes like distribution of free rice, he said that mishandling of Covid-19 had cost the state over 4lakh lives.

Senior leader R V Deshpande appreciated former CM Siddaramaiah's decision to hand over the Paresh Mesta case to the CBI. Describing the government as a failure, he said that none of the MLAs had managed to get any new project for the district. "Corruption is high. Essential commodities are out of reach of the common man. Youth are unemployed. Siddaramaiah had waived farmers' loans and had genuine concern for the poor," he said.

U T Khader mocked BJP leaders who visited houses of workers who were killed. "Their own workers drove them away. They don't trust them," he said.

Campaign against untouchability in December

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

With an aim to create awareness against the practice of untouchability, the Karnataka government is all set to launch 'Vinaya Samarasya' campaign in the second week of December, said Minister for Social Welfare and Backward Classes Kota Srinivas Poojary. He said the campaign will be launched at the Gram Panchayat level across the state.

Poojary held a meeting with officials through video conferencing on Thursday in this regard. Presently, he is under medication and has been admitted to a private hospital in Udupi.

In a press statement, the minister stated that it is more important to create awareness among those who practice untouchability rather than those who are at the receiving end. Religious heads from various mutts, specially from non-Dalit communities, will be roped into the campaign, he said.

An event is expected to be held at Bengaluru or Koppala and the date will be announced soon. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is expected to launch the initiative.

It may be recalled that in September 2021, a Dalit family was fined Rs 25,000 after their two-year-old son Vinay entered a temple premises at Miyapur village in Kushtagi taluk in Koppal in North Karnataka. This was widely criticised by people, political parties and many organisations. It was then that the State government decided to launch this initiative and named it after the toddler - Vinaya Samarasya.

2 women ultras killed in encounter with Odisha cops

Deceased hailed from Chhattisgarh, firefight occurs days ahead of bypolls

ENS @ Bhubaneswar

JUST days ahead of the Padampur bypolls, an exchange of fire took place between the Special Operations Group (SOG) of Odisha Police and Naxals in Gandhamardan Hills on Thursday, during which two women Naxals from Chhattisgarh were neutralised by the security forces.

The police did not rule out that the Naxals were planning to create law and order issues before the bypolls in neighbouring Bargarh district on December 5. DGP Sunil Kumar Bansal told mediapersons in the state capital that the police received information about the presence of a group of Naxals in Gandhamardan Hills. About five SOG teams were deployed on Wednesday night to launch an operation against the red ultras. "Security personnel spotted at least five Naxals and an exchange of fire ensued. During the combing operation, the bodies of two women Maoists in uniform were recovered and their identities were established. The two were carrying a reward of Rs 4 lakh each," said Bansal.

Two Insas rifles were recovered from the female ultras, who were reportedly area committee members and belonged to the Bolangir-Bargarh-Mahasamund division. More teams have been deployed in the region, combing operations have been intensified and efforts are on to nab the Naxals who fled, said the DGP, who also urged the ultras to shun violence, avail the surrender policy and join the mainstream. On being asked if the two persons killed in exchange of fire with security personnel in the Malipadar forests in Koraput district on the night of November 10 were Naxals, Bansal said initial investigation suggests they were members of banned CPI (Maoist).

I-T raids end, kin of TS minister to be quizzed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

THE raids by the Income Tax Department on the residences of Telangana Labour Minister Ch Malla Reddy and his relatives ended on Thursday. As many as 14 people, including the minister, have been summoned for questioning on November 28 and 29, sources said.

As many as 200 officials conducted the searches at 65 places from Tuesday, amid protection from CRPF personnel. Sources said teams seized almost Rs 15 crore in cash and more than 25 land documents from the residences of Malla Reddy and his relatives. However, Rs 80 lakh of the cash is alleged to be payment towards the yearly routine fee to Jawaharlal Nehru Technological University (JNTU).

The money seized is from the group's real estate businesses and educational institutions, sources added. Officials have also reportedly recovered hard drives, mobile phones, and account records. The list of 14 people summoned for questioning at Aayakar Bhavan in Baseerbagh, also includes Malla Reddy's sons, Mahender and Bhadra, and his son-in-law, Marri Rajsekhar Reddy, sources added. They were also reportedly asked to bring statements of their bank accounts.

Sources said that on the basis of seized documents, it is suspected that most of the transactions were in cash, which was redirected into the real estate businesses of the group. Officials also suspect that the accounts of many employees were used to carry out transactions, they added. I-T teams also reportedly seized keys to five bank lockers, which they will open either on Friday or Saturday. Those who have been asked to appear will be questioned on the transactions between family members, which the officials suspect are connected to their real estate or other businesses.

After receiving replies, I-T officials may decide on the future course of action. If evidence of money laundering is found, they are likely to write to the Enforcement Directorate, seeking details of their transactions.

HC dismisses 'Kantara' makers' plea

ENS @ Kochi

THE Kerala High Court has dismissed a petition filed by Hombale Films LLP, the producer of blockbuster 'Kantara', challenging the orders passed by the District and Sessions Courts in Kozhikode and Palakkad, prohibiting them from using the song 'Varaha Roopam' in the film and online platforms.

The Sessions Court had issued the order based on a plea by music band 'Thaikudam Bridge', which alleged that 'Varaha Roopam' has unavoidable similarities with 'Navarasam', a song it released in 2017, and the use of that song in the movie is a violation of the Copyright Act.

The producer argued in the HC there is no copyright infringement and/or violation of any third-party rights in the composition of 'Varaha Roopam'. The court said that the order is not a final one, and hence, is not appealable. "I don't find any ground or reason for this court to interfere with the ad-interim order at this nascent stage. It is up to the petitioner to appear before the Sessions Court, file its counter statement/affidavit," the court said.

Religious body calls on believers to shun 'football intoxication'

M P PRASHANTH @Kozhikode

AT a time when the FIFA World Cup has caught the imagination of football fans across the world, with minnows Saudi Arabia and Japan registering upset wins against giants Argentina and Germany, respectively, a Muslim organisation has asked believers to maintain restraint and not get swayed by the popular mood.

Samastha Kerala Jam-Iyyathul Qutba committee, the body of the khateebs who deliver Friday sermons in mosques, has directed preachers to ask Muslims not to indulge in extravaganza and unbridled celebrations in the name of 'football fever', in their sermons. In a message to the khateebs on Thursday, the committee said though football is not a prohibited game for Muslims, there are some limits prescribed by the religion.

"Football should not be an intoxicant. Certain games and players exert influence on us, but we should be careful to avoid these influences becoming a kind of intoxication. Anything that forces us to forget our responsibilities is an intoxicant," the message said.

It also reminded believers not to miss congregational prayers because of the game. "Many football matches happen during night time in India. Those who watch them in the night should be careful enough to not miss prayers," the message said.

IN his tweet tagging the PM, defence minister and Karnataka CM, former Army chief General V P Malik said: "This is heartless indeed. Hope we can do something for the family. Her son returned from NDA after a very serious injury during training."

Meanwhile, Bharati Joshi is caught between her job and her ailing son. She cannot neglect both as she needs financial support to take care of Kishan, as she is the only breadwinner of the family. "The letters from AG's office are worrying me. I am ready to pay the increment amount drawn during the leave, but it will be hard for me to remit the entire salary drawn during this period as I have already spent around Rs 12 lakh on Kishan's treatment and on my stay in Pune for over a year," she told TNIE. Treated till May 2022 at Pune Command Hospital, Kishan was sent home in ailing condition and Bharati needed more leave to take care of him. So she requested another 360 days of eligible leave, and a posting at Hubballi or other cities as she has served for 28 years in rural areas only.

CONGRESS MUST ADDRESS THE THAROOR FACTOR IF IT IS TO SURVIVE

When the Gandhi scion is traversing the length and breadth of the country, a contestant for the Congress party president post has embarked on a political journey of a different kind. Shashi Tharoor, Thiruvananthapuram MP, who lost out to Mallikarjun Kharge, is on a trip to rediscover Kerala, his home state.

Kept away from campaigning in Gujarat, Tharoor, it seems, has got a whiff of things in store for him from the high command. So, he has decided to shift his focus to state politics, where Congress is still a powerful force to reckon with. He started with a tour of Malabar, where he met all prominent community leaders, including the powerful Thangal family, the supremo of the Indian Union Muslim League, a dominant partner in the Congress-led UDF. He also met Christian bishops and cultural personalities. After this, Tharoor will inaugurate a function of the Nair Service Society (NSS), a prominent body of upper caste Hindus who have always called the shots in Kerala politics, especially Congress politics.

The state leaders, particularly Opposition Leader V D Satheesan, are rattled. They are playing all the cards to scuttle Tharoor's trip. DCCs have been told not to get involved in Tharoor's programmes. But nothing has doused Tharoor's energy. He seemed least anxious about the diktats of the current leadership as he is getting a rousing welcome wherever he goes, especially from the youth.

All these have created quite a lot of confusion within the rank and file of the party unit, which is yet to recover completely from the humiliating defeat it suffered in the 2021 assembly polls. It is still unclear precisely what his intentions are as he has many a time referred to the "multiple options" he has. Is he trying to be the power centre in Congress politics in Kerala or just testing the waters before taking a crucial political plunge? Whichever way, the current imbroglio is not helping the Congress. It has already lost its opposition space to a belligerent governor who is locking horns with the government, and it is not in a space where it can afford another split. If the Congress leadership is careful enough to handle the situation amicably, it will be good for the party. Otherwise, the Congress' national leadership will have to watch helplessly as one of its strongest bastions gets washed away due to its lack of astuteness.

HANDLE TRIBALS' TIFF OVER LAND WITH TACT

The murder of a forest range officer Ch Srinivasa Rao on Tuesday in Bhadradri Kothagudem district, Telangana, by Gutti Koya tribals is a chilling reminder of the need to take action on an issue that brooks no delay. The forest department officials are justified in confronting ministers at Srinivasa Rao's funeral and demanding the right to possess firearms and opening forest stations on the lines of police stations with vehicles—helpless as they are in a conflict between the state and the tribals. The issue has been festering for a long time and frequently. In 2019, a female range officer was beaten up by tribals to prevent her from planting saplings in lands occupied by them, and since then, clashes have been occurring on and off. But hacking a forest range officer to death took place for the first time in the state's history.

The first step to end the tribals-forest staff confrontation was taken when the Centre brought in the Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act (RoFR), under which December 13, 2005 was fixed as the deadline for recognising eligible tribals for granting rights on lands on which they were growing crops. Under the Act, the state government gave forest land rights to 96,600 farmers for 3.08 lakh acres in 2008. Then too, there were complaints that many tribals had been left out. Meanwhile, more tribals began occupying forest lands even as the forest staff resisted their attempts.

The matter is sensitive as the government has to protect forests and, at the same time, the interests of the tribals. The government has collected close to four lakh applications from tribals seeking rights for about 13 lakh acres of forest land. But can it confer land rights just like that? No. It has to coordinate with the Centre to amend the RoFR Act to extend the deadline. Needless to say, it is easier said than done. Under the circumstances, the onus is as much on the Centre as on the state. The priority ought to be the prevention of violence and further encroachments by holding village-level awareness programmes. Secondly, the government could explore ways to offer alternative livelihoods to willing tribals while maintaining the status quo. Tribals cannot be ousted from the lands as that would not only deprive them of their livelihood but also force them to join the ranks of the active Maoists in the region.

QUICK TAKE

COMBAT FAKE REVIEW MENACE

The government targets fake product reviews on online platforms. Guidelines will be in place to ensure genuine reviews are published and manufactured ones do not mislead customers to manipulate their buying choices. Strangely, the guidelines are voluntary. That will not work because of the massive amount of fake online appraisals. Reviews influence 75% of shoppers' decisions globally, and penal action alone can discourage fakery. The UK has plans to outlaw sham reviews. Federal agencies in the US propose legal crackdowns and suits. India needs legislation to ensure reviewer authenticity and the associated liability of the platforms to win the fight.

For aggressive speeches other than those amounting to offences, we need to evolve an institutional mechanism

DRAWING THE LINE: HATE SPEECH IS NOT FREE SPEECH

KALEESWARAM RAJ
Lawyer, Supreme Court of India

The rise of hate speech in the country in recent years has been alarming. Often, the leaders who make offensive remarks are either part of the power or proximate to it. As such, if at all, theoretically, they commit certain offences as defined in the Penal Code or other enactments, the law is often not set in motion. Selective use, non-use or misuse of the law is the country's new abnormal. Sometimes, an appeal for genocide is ignored by the authorities, whereas a comedian's show gets cancelled because of an artificially apprehended law and order issue.

The nation has changed for the worse, politically and culturally. Certain reports indicate that since May 2014, there has been a 490% increase in hate speeches by prominent personalities, the majority of whom are politicians. Around 124 reported instances involving 45 politicians have been noted during this period. Fanaticism has developed a new vocabulary shared by the majority and minorities. It has contaminated India's public debates.

The public, especially influential persons, should be given a free hand in criticising the institutions and the individuals who run the institutions. Not only the government but the legislature or the judiciary also cannot claim immunity from people's criticism. The free flow of opinions is a fundamental requirement for any working democracy. The Indian Supreme Court has warned against any move to curtail such freedom. In Sakal Papers(p) Ltd. v. The Union of India (1961), the court said that "the state cannot make a law which directly restricts one freedom even for scouring the better enjoyment of another freedom".

The question, however, is, what is the remedy when ministers, members of the legislature, and the like openly make hateful and derogatory comments that either tend to split the society or substantially damage the dignity of the targeted group or individual? In such cases, the precious rights of the individuals are infringed not by the state as such but by those who are, in a way, part of the state and bound to speak and act constitutionally. It is a question as to whether such rights violations could be tackled only by the victims, adopting private laws. Dealing with this situation takes work. The courts cannot, normally, gag anyone and pre-empt a speech as it will amount to curtailment of freedom guaranteed under Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution. A restriction should be reasonable and can be done by a law made by the state. Even such laws should satisfy the constitutional requirement indicated under Article 19.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

In exceptional cases, gag orders would be justified. The top court has also said that when the speech creates hostility among the different groups, it could attract penal consequences. In State of Karnataka v. Praveen Bhai Thogadia (2004), the Supreme Court held that if the speeches "are likely to trigger communal antagonism and hatred", the concerned authorities should issue prohibitory orders. In recent times, the Supreme Court has issued repeated directives regarding hate speeches and hate crimes. The judgments in Tehseen Poonawalla (2018), Kodungallur Film Society (2018), and Amish Devgan (2020) illustrate this point. In Kodungallur Film Society, the Supreme Court said: "Hate crimes as a product of intolerance, ideological dominance and prejudice ought not to be tolerated; lest it results in a reign of terror. Extrajudicial elements and non-State actors cannot be allowed to take the place of law or the law enforcing agency." Thus, the jurisprudence on the subject is almost well-settled. But the menace continues. The law laid down by the court is not translated into action on the ground due to a variety of reasons related to power and politics. A free and fair police system that can set the law in motion in the event of hate crimes, irrespective of the political colour of the accused, is imperative for maintaining the Rule of Law. The Supreme Court, in Prakash Singh Case (2006), made a judicial initiative for independent police, which again was sabotaged by the executive.

Some speeches may not fall within the ambit of crimes as defined in the statutes. They, too, might impact the dignity of individuals who may be otherwise helpless. In nations like the UK and Australia, the governments were concerned with the Code of Conduct prescribing certain ethical boundaries on the speech and activities of the public functionaries. These are instances of self-regulation by the persons at the helm of affairs. Such an initiation has not happened in India. We need to consider it.

When political leaders try to reap electoral benefits through divisive agendas, there is little possibility of such leadership acting against hate speeches and other disparaging utterances by public functionaries. Even elections are fought on religious labels, clearly violating the prohibitory and penalising clauses in the Representation of People Act (1951).

In the case of aggressive speeches other than those amounting to offences, we need to evolve an institutional mechanism. An Ombudsman for this purpose might be a good idea. Currently, the existing system, like the Human Rights Commission, both at the national and the state level, should be able to take cognisance of hate speeches and fix liability on the concerned even when no crime as such is made out in the speech. After all, every divisive or disparaging speech could lead to a massive human rights violation. The definition of human rights occurring under Section 2(d) of the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993 would endorse this aspect.

Here again, there is a need to ensure functional autonomy for the human rights panels. The political appointment process immensely damages many of our institutions, and the Human Rights Commissions are no exception. The constitutional courts have jurisdiction to examine the commissions and omissions of the human rights panels. This judicial vigilance must be ignited if the rights panels refuse to act during aggravated hate speech having massive impacts. Responsible citizens and organisations must take a proactive role to set the law and the court in motion. They should resort to the device of Social Action Litigation (SAL).

We find even the ministers shouting about shooting 'the other' during communal riots. This is shocking. There is a growing concern among the public on the silence of leaders who are regarded as more mature and experienced than the hatemongers of their own folk. This is a silence amounting to guilt. Ultimately, more than any device or institutional mechanism, including the courts, it needs a vigilant public to guard against divisive politics. As said by Judge Learned Hand, "…A society so riven that the spirit of moderation is gone, no court can save;…a society where that spirit flourishes, no court need save…"

QUESTIONING THE FEASIBILITY OF ONE NATION, ONE ELECTION

SANDIP GHOSE
Current affairs commentator

In auditing, there is a concept called Perpetual Inventory Management. It essentially means taking stock of stores and spares in a phased manner so that the entire inventory is covered at least once a year. Though we did not have any accountants at the helm of the country or among the framers of the Constitution, somewhere along the line, we seem to have lapsed into a system of perennial elections. Such a practice is not heard of in other major democracies in the world.

Long ago, when this writer used to work for a leading vanaspati and edible oils manufacturer, the marketing team maintained a calendar of major festivals such as Diwali, Dussehra, Pongal, etc. It was at these times the sale of sweets and, consequently, vegetable oils peaked.

Later, when he worked for a cement company, elections assumed greater importance. There is a surge in demand for cement in the run-up to every election—be it panchayats, local bodies, municipalities, states and Centre—as the administration goes on an overdrive to complete pending development work. Equally, there is a long lull after the elections till the new administration takes over and budgets are sanctioned.

It is not cement alone; a large chunk of the country's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) is generated from the economic activity surrounding elections across sectors. From services like event management, logistics, media, advertising and marketing—elections boost a sundry other industry ranging from white goods (distributed as freebies) to automobiles and liquor. Spare a thought for television channels and, now YouTubers, who thrive on year-round elections for producing content. When newspaper circulation is dwindling across the world—political advertisements work like a life support system for print media. Add to these the headcount of the Election Commission, supplementary police and paramilitary forces that need to be kept on standby for election duty, and the contribution of elections in job creation would be mind-boggling. But we should not digress from the main political question.

'One nation, one election' is not a new concept. Though not explicitly stated in the statute books, it seems to have been the assumption of the framers of our Constitution. Midterm elections, either in the states or the Centre, were envisaged to be an exception rather than the rule. Thus, till about 1967, simultaneous elections of Lok Sabha and State Assemblies were the norm. It was only after that did the trend of dismissal of governments in midterm and imposition of President's rule begin upsetting the election calendar of the country.

Next, in the Seventies, we had unstable governments lasting less than their full term at the Centre, further muddying the waters. It can be argued that holding frequent elections is the price of democracy that the nation should be willing to bear in its interest. Fractured mandates also reflect the will of the people and a vibrant polity. But beyond a point, does it run the risk of making democracy dysfunctional?

> A parallel economy operates around elections in every country, but in India, it is only becoming larger by the day

Much has been discussed on how keeping the country continuously in an election mode impacts governance. Elections are a major distraction for politicians, especially those in office. Instead of attending to the tasks of running the government or playing the role of an effective opposition, they must frequently take time off for campaigning. But the biggest casualties are economic and administrative reforms. Apprehensive of collateral damage in state elections, the Central government is often forced to put off hard decisions. This has also started a culture of freebies to secure quick wins. As a result, sometimes, issues of national importance get scuttled in local elections. Take, for instance, the case of the Pension Scheme. Introduced by the UPA government, it is now being reversed in many states—ironically due to pressure from the Congress party, the original author of the reform. Political parties often find it inconvenient to fight elections on real issues of governance, economy, jobs, and development which are often a case of the pot calling the kettle black. Therefore, to divert attention or counter anti-incumbency, they resort to "vote bank" politics, leveraging on communal, religious, caste and ethnic fault lines. This, indeed, cannot be healthy for democracy.

It is a settled fact that the high cost of fighting elections is a major factor of corruption. In order to raise funds for fighting polls, politicians resort to unethical practices. The recent controversy surrounding liquor sales licensing policy in a certain state believed to have been engineered for funding elections is just one such example. Zillions of other scams do not get reported at all. A parallel economy operates around elections in every country, but in India, it is only becoming larger by the day and, unfortunately, most of the transactions take place beneath the surface. With the results, the financial entry barrier in politics has become insurmountable for ordinary citizens. This seriously restricts the inflow of talented and meritorious candidates into electoral politics. This certainly cannot augur well for our democracy.

The nation is crying for electoral reforms. One nation, one election could be a step in the right direction. However, developing political consensus for it looks well-nigh impossible. A beginning could be to align elections in states that are scheduled to go to polls towards the end of 2023—namely Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, and Chhattisgarh. The BJP can aid the process by bringing forward the 2024 Lok Sabha elections and Maharashtra assembly polls to coincide with these states. Someone with Narendra Modi's political capital can take such a bold call. If he bites the bullet, 2023–24 can be a watershed moment for the Indian elections.

'New Pak army chief may not meddle with India as of now'

Gen Munir has many issues to deal with, says ex-diplomat Sabharwal

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

NEWLY-APPOINTED Pakistan Chief of Army Staff (COAS) Lt General Asim Munir "may not ramp up issues against India in the immediate future as his hands will be full", said former Indian High Commissioner to Pakistan, Sharat Sabharwal, in an exclusive chat with The New Indian Express.

Munir will have so many issues to deal with that he will desist raking up issues with India, at least in the near future, added Sabharwal.

"Pakistan is mired in a serious political and economic crisis. The image of the army has taken a beating after the ouster of former prime minister Imran Khan — an ouster that the latter has attributed to the intervention of the Pakistan military. Terrorism is a big issue and of concern in the tribal belts and Balochistan, where the Tehrik-i-Taliban, commonly known as the Pakistani Taliban, is active. The new COAS will have to help the army recover their lost image first," said the former diplomat.

He added that Munir may sustain the India-Pakistan ceasefire. The old ceasefire had collapsed and was restored by outgoing COAS General Qamar Javed Bajwa in February 2021.

Asked about Munir's equations with Imran, who is now leading the long march, and who is the army's biggest challenger, Sabharwal said that one will have to wait and see. "He may not have a happy equation with Imran, who had removed him as Director General, Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI), seven months into his tenure in 2019, and brought in Faiz Hamid, who had helped Imran win elections. (But) For now, Munir will lay off meddling in Pakistan's political affairs and allow politicians to slug it out and discredit themselves. His immediate attention will be to build the image of the military," he added.

The new COAS will have to help the army recover their lost image first

Sharat Sabharwal, former High Commissioner to Pakistan

Munir has the distinction of being Director General, Military Intelligence, a post he held from early 2017 for a period of 21 months. In October 2018, he became DG, ISI, but was removed from the post by Bajwa at the asking of Imran, the then PM. Sabharwal said despite this, Bajwa is assured of an honourable exit, given the fact that the Pakistan Army works like a "trade union" and protects its own.

On Thursday, Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif appointed Munir to succeed Bajwa, who according to sources, had wanted Lt General Azhar Abbas, a three-star general, to succeed him. "Bajwa's equation with Munir is (still) far from cordial. The latter is (the ruling) PMLN's candidate," sources stated.

India is keeping a close watch on the appointment of the Pakistan COAS and CJCSG. It was during Munir's tenure as DG, ISI, that the Pulwama attack happened in which 40 CRPF personnel were martyred, when their convoy was passing through the Jammu-Srinagar highway on February 14, 2019.

Munir had been promoted to the rank of a three-star general in September 2018. His tenure was due to end on November 27.

Assam's Lachit Borphukan was Shivaji-like warrior: Shah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Home Minister Amit Shah and Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma at the plenary session of 400th birth anniversary of Lachit Barphukan in New Delhi | PIB

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday equated Assam's Ahom commander Lachit Borphukan with "Shivaji in the West" who helped in India's quest to attain 'swaraj' (self-rule). Shah was speaking at an event organised by the Assam government to mark the 400th birth anniversary of the Ahom warrior.

Assam celebrates Lachit Diwas on November 24 as a tribute to Barphukan's valour and heroism. Barphukan (November 24, 1622-April 25, 1672) was the famous general of the Royal Army of the Ahom Kingdom of Assam who defeated the Mughals and successfully halted their ever-expanding ambitions under Aurangzeb.

The Home Minister recalled the sacrifices of freedom fighters in various parts of the country. "All of them had some common characteristics that helped the people to regain swaraj," Shah added.

"The Mughals attacked the northeast part of India in general and Assam in particular 22 times. Borphukan fought valiantly against the invading army and repulsed the attacks successfully," Shah said.

The Home Minister appreciated Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma for organising celebrations to mark Borphukan's birth anniversary.

Narrating anecdotes on Borphukan's "commitment" and patriotism, Shah said that the Ahom warrior disregarded personal illness to fight the decisive battle of Saraighat, in which he defeated the Mughal army. That victory stopped further attacks from Delhi, he said. "Borphukan even built a navy. While the Mughals had large ships, Borphukan built smaller boats and his infantrymen possessed rifles. But he overcame the obvious asymmetry in power and in this, he was aided by soldiers loyal to him," Shah said.

Amit Shah, Home Minister

Underscoring the Modi government's decision to celebrate Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, Shah said it was time to honour several of our anonymous freedom fighters. "Today, there is peace in the north-east. Development of the region has begun," Shah said. He said the steps taken by the Centre have ended the differences between mainstream India and the region, which is now connected by rail and road. The growing connectivity has brought the people together, he added.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will on Friday address the closing ceremony of year-long celebrations of Lachit Barphukan's 400th birth anniversary.

THE RUPEE TRADE ROUTE

UAE, Sri Lanka, Maldives, Saudi Arabia, some African & Latin American nations have responded positively to trade with India in rupee

- Government of India is in talks with some smaller countries as it is trying to expand bilateral trade through bespoke rupee accounts.
- The step is to overcome the dollar-dominated trades
- Countries that India is talking to include African countries such as Zimbabwe, Djibouti, Ethiopia, Malawi, Sudan, Nigeria and Tanzania
- India's trade with Djibouti, Namibia, Ethiopia, Kenya and Cuba can be settled in Indian rupees against franc, Namibian dollars, birrs, shillings and pesos respectively

African countries keen to trade in Indian rupee

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

MANY African countries have shown interest in trading with India through rupee and their local currencies. These countries include Nigeria and Tanzania. India is already trading in rupee and rubal with Russia in defence sector. Besides African nations, countries like UAE, Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Maldives also want to deal in rupee.

Experts observing India's foreign trade say that overseas business in Indian currency will give a big boost to Indian economy. "If we manage to get 25 to 30 countries to trade in local currencies within a span of four years, our exports would touch $1 trillion from the existing $420 billion," said an industry expert.

According to experts, many countries in Africa are facing shortage of hard currency so this kind of an arrangement will work well for them as they can trade commodities and minerals for food and essential items like medicines.

"Africa is rich in minerals and oil and they have a food deficit which can be filled by India. Medicines, tiles, electronic goods are in high demand and trading in Indian rupee will work well for them. Besides, they also have an option of equity investment which would mean that they can use the amount due to them to invest in companies/projects in India," said an industry source.

Meanwhile, India and Russia are already trading in local currencies in the defence segment. There is also an option of equity investment.

TRAITOR PILOT WILL NEVER BE ACCEPTED AS CM, SAYS GEHLOT

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN his sharpest ever attack on Sachin Pilot, Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot has called him a 'traitor' who "will never be accepted as the CM of Rajasthan." Gehlot's comments came in an interview with a leading TV channel where he also asserted that Pilot was hand in glove with the BJP and claimed that he had proof that MLAs were offered ₹5-10 crores during the revolt led by Pilot in 2020.

With this attack, the political war between Ashok Gehlot and Sachin Pilot has taken a new form ahead of Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra. In the interview, Gehlot called Pilot a 'traitor' many times and claimed that the Congress high command will never make Pilot the CM. Gehlot's attack on Pilot came at a time when he was joining the Bharat Jodo Yatra along with Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi in Burhanpur, Madhya Pradesh.

Gehlot said that "the man who does not have 10 MLAs, who rebelled to get power and kept the party in deception is a traitor. He can never become the CM." Gehlot did not stop there and talked about the Pilot group taking crores of rupees from the BJP and said he has proof of all this.

In 2020, the Gehlot government was in crisis when Pilot and 19 MLAs supporting him had camped in a hotel in Manesar.

"This would be the first time in the country that a party president tried to topple his own government (in 2020). They were funded by BJP and because of them we sat in hotels for 34 days," asserted Gehlot.

He added, "They were trying to topple our government and Amit Shah and Dharmendra Pradhan were also involved in this saga. Pradhan actually used to come to meet the MLAs at the Manesar's hotel."

Religious freedom weak in India: Report

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

INDIA has come under scanner of the US Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) over allegedly reported violations of religious freedom conditions in 2021.

In its latest annual report for 2022, the USCIRF after making assessing religious freedom violations and progress in 27 countries in 2021 has recommended the US government to designate India as a "Country of Particular Concern" (CPC) for engaging in and tolerating systematic ongoing and egregious violation of religious freedom, as defined by the International Religious Freedom Act (IRFA).

The report in its key finding has stated that the religious freedom conditions in India in 2021 significantly worsened.

"During the year 2021, the Indian government escalated its promotion and enforcement of policies, including those promoting a Hindu-nationalist agenda, that negatively affect Muslims, Christians, Sikhs, Dalits, and other religious minorities," the report has stated in its key finding.

It has further stated that the government continued to systemise its ideological vision of a Hindu state at both the national and state levels through both existing and new laws and structural changes hostile to the country's religious minorities.

Govt reversed statutory process while launching DeMO: Chidambaram

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

TERMING the decision making process of "demonetisation" as deeply flawed, senior advocate and senior Congress leader P Chidambaram on Thursday submitted before the constitution bench of the Supreme Court that the statutory process in this case was reversed since the government made a proposal to the RBI.

Chidambaram told the bench led by Justice S Abdul Nazeer that the government had violated the Constitution since anything to do with currency could emanate from the RBI and even though the centre had the power but it could be exercised on a recommendation from the RBI.

"Such powers (for demonetisation) not available under 26(2) of the RBI Act, process adopted deeply flawed and if it is available under the said provision this court must strike it down as unconstitutional. The government has violated the Constitution of India because, as per the RBI Act and its Section 26(2), the government could not demonetise all series of bank notes of any denomination the way they did. So, this case is important as it affects the Constitution of the country," he argued.

Any power of the government is only on recommendation of the Central Board. The central government cant its own initiate any proposal relating to currency notes, it can only be Central Board's recommendation.

Apprising the bench of the way in which demonetisation was implemented in 1946 and 1978, he further added that in 2016, this was done through a notification that was issued under provisions of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934.

He further added that the government did not consider "horrendous consequences" of the policy.

POWER PACKS FROM WASTE PAPER TO CHARGE CARS, PHONE

Scientists from Nanyang Technological University, Singapore, have come up with a method to develop rechargeable batteries to power electric vehicles, phones and medical equipment using — hold your breath! — waste paper. The technique involves converting waste paper from single-use packaging, cardboard boxes into crucial components of lithium-ion batteries. This is being done through a process called carbonisation that converts paper into pure carbon. The researchers turn paper's fibers into electrodes, which in turn can be made into rechargeable batteries that power mobile phones, medical equipment, and electric vehicles. The anodes can be charged and discharged up to 1,200 times.

LOW-COST SENSOR TO MONITOR AREA-WIDE FLOODING

Scientists have developed a low-cost sensor to monitor area-wide flooding, especially from swelling rivers that can help forewarn residents in the vicinity to evacuate or take preventive measures to minimise loss of lives and property. Although a range of devices already exist to monitor the same, they are liable to damage due to exposure to water or are unable to provide continuous monitoring. Nor do they have remote reading capabilities, and can be expensive. But University of Bonn researchers' cost-effective device is found to be reliable and capable of continuously transmitting water level data to an evaluation center. It is suitable for providing a densely-distributed network for flood and drought warning systems. The core of the device is a low-cost Global Navigation Satellite System receiver and antenna to determine the position of its location with several meter accuracy. While the satellite transmission is direct the water level and data on the surrounding environment is reflected, and takes longer.

REMOTE-CONTROLLED MICROSCOPE BRINGS ACCESS TO BIOLOGY STUDENTS

UC Santa Cruz researchers have developed a method for using remote-controlled, internet-connected microscopes to enable students anywhere in the world to participate in designing and carrying out biology experiments. The researchers implemented the microscope technology in the biology classrooms and found their it to be an effective and scalable approach for giving students in the biology stream the ability to conduct complex experiments remotely. The researchers did this by taking an internet-connected camera and attaching it to the view piece of the microscope. The objective of this research was to create a roadmap for a wider number of students to conduct and study complex experiments in a networked manner from remote parts of the world simultaneously. While project-based learning has proven to be an effective method for teaching biology, it is restricted by barriers — cost and logistics of shipping material to isolated communities, limited teacher training, under-resourced schools, and potential exposure to hazardous materials. For instance, the researchers in their user trials found that tissue culture experiments, typically unheard of in high school and even the first few years of college, could be accessed by students who earlier were unable to get the resources by using the remote-controlled microscope.

Sangma extends ban on internet amid border row

Meets Amit Shah, seeks CBI probe; Assam govt, too, for investigation by central agency

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

MEGHALAYA CM Conrad Sangma met Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday and requested for a CBI enquiry into the firing incident at Assam-Meghalaya border. He also requested the Centre to intervene in the border dispute with Assam to improve dialogue, trust between the two states.

The Meghalaya government on Thursday extended the suspension of mobile internet services in seven districts by another 48 hours, following the killing six people in a firing incident at Assam-Meghalaya border and stray incidents of arson and attack on the vehicles of Assam in Shillong and other areas.

In a notification, the State Home Secretary CVD Diengdoh said the government received reports of arson and damages to Assam-registered vehicles from various parts of Shillong and other pockets of Jaintia Hills districts in Meghalaya. A forest beat office was torched in West Karbi Anglong district, vehicles with Assam registration numbers were pelted with stone whereas another Assam-registered SUV was torched in Shillong. As tension on the border pertains, the Assam Police stopped vehicular movement towards Shillong. Many tourists remained stranded in Meghalaya

Given the apprehension that social media could be used for transmission of information, and potential to cause serious breakdown of law and order, the government decided to extend the suspension of mobile internet services.

The Assam government transferred the SP of West Karbi Anglong district and suspended two police and forest officers.

Stray incidents of violence in Shillong

Meghalaya capital Shillong witnessed sporadic incidents of violence on Thursday evening.The violence broke out after a sit-in and candlelight vigil organised by some organisations against Tuesday's firing incident. According to reports the miscreants set a traffic police booth on fire, attempted to torch a bus and pelted stones at police personnel and other vehicles. The police restored order by using batons.

Saurashtra: BJP focuses on Patidar fort

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ Rajkot

THE 2017 assembly polls reflected BJP's worst performance in Saurashtra, a region considered one of the most active zones of Gujarat, dominated primarily by Patidars.

This time, the party is totally focused on Saurashtra and eyes a better score. It had won only 18 of the total 48 seats in the region in the previous assembly polls. The Congress bagged 30 seats.

The BJP is making all possible moves to ensure votes are translated into seats amid the perceived popularity of AAP in the region. AAP which is fighting the assembly polls in a big way for the first time in Gujarat has also fielded its chief ministerial candidate, Ishudan Gadvi, an anchor of a popular regional TV show Mahamanthan, from Khambaliya, near Dwarka, in the region.

The BJP has fielded fresh faces in a clear message that the party does not want non-performers. It has kept paradropping the known faces and star campaigners well in advance to ensure a strong recall factor for the first phase on December 1.

The political landscape of Saurashtra is known for its mixed demography comprising Patidars, Kshatriyas and different castes grouped under the OBCs such as Vagher Koli, and Mer each having its own importance in terms of issues primarily related to trade and farming.

The BJP has carefully handled the most contentious issue of Patidar agitation that ruined its prospects in the region in 2017. Though reservation for Patidar is not a resonant issue, inflation and the rising debt of farmers continue to be in focus in the agrarian pockets of Saurashtra.

The BJP has fielded first-timers such Rivaba Solanki, wife of cricketer Ravindra Jadeja, among others. The party has even dropped four of the six sitting MLAs in the Rajkot segment to overcome anti-incumbency in a bid to connect with the masses. Ex-Gujarat CM Vijay Rupani who was a legislator from the Rajkot West assembly constituency in the previous election was dropped.

The Congress is focusing on BJP's mismanagement while AAP is reaching out with post-election incentives to voters – similar to the ones assured in other states by the party.

Rescheduling Bharat Jodo Yatra in UP

If UP Congress insiders are to be believed, Rahul Gandhi-led Bharat Jodo Yatra, initially scheduled to enter Uttar Pradesh on December 24, is likely to tweak its programme to take a detour to spend more time in the state. The yatra is likely to enter UP from Bulandshahr in western UP. The Uttar Pradesh Congress Committee has proposed a nearly 16-day route from Mathura to Saharanpur. As per initial programme, the yatra had a schedule of just four days in UP covering a couple of western UP districts. Party insiders claim that instead of entering UP on December 4, the yatra will touch the state in the first week of January as it may get a break during New Year. UP incharge Priyanka Gandhi Vadra will also join Rahul Gandhi in UP.

Vedic city to be developed in Ayodhya

As the construction of Ram Temple is going on in full swing, preparations are also on to develop a new Ayodhya township. As the township is being developed in the lines of Gujarat International Finance Tec-City, which is popularly known as GIFT-City, architects from the western state led by Rajeev Doshi visited the town for a spot inspection. The township would be spread across 1,000 acres in three villages — Manja Barhata, Manja Tirwa and Shahnawazpur of Ayodhya on the Lucknow-Gorakhpur highway. The Uttar Pradesh Awas Vikas Parishad (UP Housing Board) will implement the project.

Passenger buses being used for bootlegging

In an 'innovative' way to dodge law-enforcement agencies to carry illegal liquor from Haryana to 'dry' Bihar, smugglers are using passenger buses. The racket was busted in Sultanpur when a bus was checked by the local police on a specific tip-off. The cops found liquor worth Rs 15 lakh stuffed in the special cavity beneath the passenger seats of the bus. The smugglers reportedly would pay Rs 1 lakh-Rs 1.5 lakh to the owner of the bus to carry the 'contraband'. The consignment would be sold for 10 times higher price once it reached Bihar. Six people so far have been arrested and more are likely to be arrested.

Priyanka joins brother's yatra in MP, walks for hrs in tribal-dominated area

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE 78th day of Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra, which had its second day in Madhya Pradesh, saw the Wayanad MP's sister Priyanka Gandhi Vadra join him for the first time since the yatra began in September.

Priyanka, the party's face in the politically crucial Uttar Pradesh, wasn't alone in the tribal-dominated Khandwa district of Madhya Pradesh. She was also accompanied by her husband Robert Vadra and son Raihan Vadra. The yatra was received amid shouts by supporters: 'Hindustan ka niwasi hai, Rahul Gandhi bhi Adivasi hai' (a native of India, Rahul too is Adivasi).

Priyanka couldn't join the yatra earlier due to campaigning in Himachal Pradesh. She flew in to Indore with her husband on Wednesday evening, while son Raihan joined his parents the next day, to be in time for his uncle's yatra in Khandwa district.

The second day of the yatra began around 6.30 am on Thursday from Borgaon area of Khandwa district. It saw Priyanka walking along with her brother while her husband and son followed close behind.

Congress leaders Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra during the Bharat Jodo Yatra in Khandwa, Madhya Pradesh, on Thursday

Around three hours later when the yatra covered 8 km, the brother-sister had a quick breakfast at a dhaba in Kumthi village, from where they proceeded further to a village, 5 km away.

After raising the Adivasi-versus-Vanvasi issue (which he started during the poll campaign in Gujarat recently), Rahul again accused the RSS of siding with the British, who executed tribal revolutionaries, Tantya Bheel and Birsa Munda.

Sources said Priyanka would accompany Rahul in Indore on November 26.

MILITANT THREAT

Houses, offices of journalists raided in J&K

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

IN its ongoing investigation into online threats to journalists by militants, police on Thursday carried out raids on the residences of journalists, vlogger and a lawyer at multiple locations in central and south Kashmir. A police official said searches were conducted by police at seven locations in Srinagar and Budgam in central Kashmir and Pulwama in south Kashmir.

The residences of journalist Showkat Motta in Lal Bazar; vlogger Asif Dar (based abroad) in Bemina, Srinagar, Saqib Magloo in Lal Bazar; Isfaq Reshi in Pohkar, Budgam; residence and office of Haji Hayat Bhat, editor of local English daily Kashmir Reader, and a lawyer Khaksar Nadeeb Adnan in Srinagar were raided.

"During searches, incriminating materials, including mobiles, computers, laptops, pendrives, simcards, Jihadi literature, banking documents, dummy gun, US and Russian currency notes were recovered and seized by police," the spokesman said.

What was tearing hurry in EC appointment: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

A day after calling for the file related to the appointment of former IAS officer Arun Goel as election commissioner, the Supreme Court on Thursday fired a volley of questions at the Centre over the "lightning speed" with which the whole procedure was completed.

While perusing the document submitted by the Centre, a five-judge Constitution bench headed by Justice K M Joseph remarked that usually, such sensitive appointments are made after careful scrutiny and contemplation but in Goel's case, the file has been cleared in one day, showing 'tearing hurry'.

Noting that the post of EC was lying vacant from May 15, Justice Rastogi asked Attorney General R Ven\ataramani what prevailed on the government to appoint Goel within a "shortest possible time" and "in a super-fast mechanism". "What is the evaluation here?" he asked, adding that the bench is not at all questioning Goel's credentials but only the appointment process.

Strongly urging the bench not to conduct a "mini trial", Venkataramani said he can show a number of appointments made after 2015, where the entire process was completed in a matter of a day or two. "Are we finding fault with quick appointments? Is there a lens by which the executive says that he's a docile person? There is no litmus test," he said.

The bench said it wants to know how exactly the law ministry prepared the short list of four names, from which Goel was picked up. Noting that Goel is the youngest of the four candidates in the list, the bench asked if that is the criteria for being appointed. "By suggesting the panel of four names, are you not shutting out the others who are senior?" it asked.

The AG explained that various factors are considered, including seniority.

PARTIES TO FILE WRITTEN SUBMISSIONS IN 5 DAYS

Walked for 3 days, slept in jungle: Bangla refugees

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

BAWILIANTHANG walked for three days, slept in the jungle and starved until he reached to safety at Bonduk-bangsora, the non-descript village in Mizoram near the tri-junction of Bangladesh, Myanmar and India on November 20.

He is among 272 Kuki-Chin people who fled their hearths and homes in the Chittagong Hill Tracts of Bangladesh in the face of a conflict between the Bangladesh Army and an ethnic armed group. They are now taking refuge at the Parva village in Mizoram.

"We are from seven villages who met in the jungle. We had nothing to eat and survived by drinking water from the streams. We slept two nights in the jungle. The children, elderly people and patients suffered the most. But luckily, none of us was bitten by snakes or attacked by wild animals," Bawilianthang told this newspaper in fluent Bengali.

He said the villagers hardly got time to carry foodstuffs or valuables in the face of the offensive against the Kuki-Chin National Army (KNA) by the Bangladesh Army which allegedly took the help of Myanmar's largest insurgent group Arakan Army.

The refugees are temporarily sheltered in Mizoram

The conflict has its genesis to the KNA's demand for autonomy for the Kuki-Chin people. They and the Mizos belong to the Zo community and share the same culture and ancestry.

"The operation against the KNA started about a month ago. The Bangladesh Army and the Arakan Army raided one village after another and beat up and arrested our people. Some were sent to jail. They threatened to kill us. Many of our people are missing. We did not feel safe and fled," T Bawilianthang said. He said they also faced socio-economic boycott by the Bangladeshi people.

"We grow turmeric, ginger, yam, mangoes, pineapples etc. We used to sell them in the markets but the Bangladeshi people refused to buy from us. They also refused to sell goods, including essential items, to us while the Bangladesh Army prevented us from going from one village to another," the farmer said.

The refugees are lodged at a school, a church and a community hall in Mizoram. They cook their food with ration being provided by the locals. The villagers also provided them with warm clothes.

"There are some patients among us. A doctor visited us yesterday (Wednesday) and gave medicines. We don't know if we can ever return to our villages. We stare at a bleak future," Bawilianthang said.

Amol Srivastava, District Magistrate of Lawngtlai, where the refugees are lodged, asked the sub-divisional officer of Chawngte in the district to relocate some asylum seekers to Chamdur Project, Mautlang and Hmawngbu villages as more people were expected to come.

Maha row: Shinde meets astrologer to know govt's fate, Oppn hits out

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA Chief Minister Eknath Shinde's visit to a local astrologer at Sinnar in Nasik district has sparked a row.

Anti-superstition organizations alleged the CM had gone against the prevalent law (anti-superstition and black magic Act) in the state. Shinde on Wednesday reportedly cancelled his official meetings and rushed to Shirdi to seek the blessing of Saibaba. He changed his official route and went to Sinnar to meet a local astrologer/palmist to "check the future of his government."

Reports said Shinde visited the Shri Ishaneshwar temple at Sinnar where a member of the temple trust is a known astrologer. Shinde and his wife performed 'pooja' inside the temple and the CM showed his palm to the astrologer. The temple trust Baba is in Nasik and also has an office there, which Shinde regularly visits to show his palm and seek his advice.

Shinde defended his decision, saying he went in broad daylight. "Going to temples is not banned in India. We can go to any temple and meet anyone. I have already shown my hand on June 30 by toppling the Uddhav Thackeray government. I never hide anything from anyone. I went to the temple with two ministers in the presence of the media," said Shinde.

'Against anti-superstition and black magic Act'

Anti-superstition organizations alleged the CM had gone against the prevalent law (anti-superstition and black magic Act) in the state. Shinde on Wednesday reportedly cancelled his official meetings and rushed to Shirdi to seek the blessing of Saibaba. He changed his official route and went to Sinnar to meet a local astrologer/palmist to "check the future of his government.

NCP chief Sharad Pawar said no state CM had ever gone to see a 'baba' to check his fate. "Maharashtra is a progressive state that promotes scientific temper among its people. The present CM's visit to an astrologer is simply unfortunate," Pawar said. Leader of Opposition and senior NCP leader Ajit Pawar said the CM should not promote superstition when there is an anti-superstition law in the state.

LT GEN ASIM MUNIR TO BE NEW PAK ARMY CHIEF

Will replace Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa, who retires on Tuesday after two consecutive three-year terms

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S former spy master and senior-most Lt General Asim Munir was on Thursday appointed as the new Army chief by President Arif Alvi, ending intense speculation over the most powerful position in the coup-prone country, where the military wields considerable power in matters of security and foreign policy.

He would replace Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa, who retires on November 29 after two three-year terms. Gen Bajwa, 61, was appointed as the army chief in 2016. He was given a three-year extension by the Imran government in 2019.

His appointment caps a week of drama in Islamabad. On Monday, the Army sent a list with five names to Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif's office. Munir's name was not on it. The Army then sent another list containing six names, including Munir's, on insistence from PMO. Later, on Thursday, the PMO sent a summary to President Alvi for appointing Lt Gen Munir as the Chief of Army Staff (COAS) and Lt Gen Sahir Shamshad Mirza as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee (CJCSC). After receiving the summary, Alvi, who belonged to the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party before assuming presidency, flew to Lahore to meet party chairman Imran Khan and held consultation over the proposed appointments.

After his return to Islamabad in the evening, Alvi signed the summary and approved the appointment of Lt Gen Munir as the new Army chief and Lt Gen Mirza as the next CJCSC. Sources said that President Alvi has invited the new army chief and the CJCSC for a meeting with him at the President House. The endorsement has completed the process of appointing the new army chief which had created political uncertainty and economic vulnerability in the country. Both officers have also been promoted to four-star generals.The CJCSC is the highest authority in the hierarchy of the armed forces but the key powers including mobilisation of troops, appointments and transfers lie with the COAS which makes the person holding the post the most powerful in the military. The powerful Army, which has ruled Pakistan for more than half of its 75-plus years of existence, has hitherto wielded considerable power in matters of security and foreign policy.

Lt General Asim Munir

The appointment coincides with a dispute between the military and Imran, who blames the army for playing a role in his ouster in April this year through a no-confidence vote.

Imran's close aide Fawad Chaudhry said on Wednesday that "until we see the conduct of the new army chief, we cannot say anything about it, but the role of the army in politics in the last 6 months is controversial, this role will need to be changed." Agencies

Groomed by General Bajwa

ISLAMABAD

Lt Gen Munir has served as chief of two most powerful intelligence agencies — the Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) and the Military Intelligence (MI) — but his stint as the spy chief at the ISI was the shortest ever as he was replaced by Lt Gen Faiz Hamid within eight months on the insistence of then-Prime Minister Imran Khan in 2019.

Lt Gen Munir entered the service via the Officers Training School programme, and was commissioned into the Frontier Force Regiment in 1986. He commanded troops in the Force Command Northern Areas as a brigadier under Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa, who was then the Commander X Corps. During this time, he became close to Bajwa.

Munir was later appointed chief of Military Intelligence in 2017. Later, in October 2018, he was handpicked by Bajwa to serve as the new chief of ISI. But he lasted in that role for just eight months and was replaced by Lt Gen Faiz Hameed, a "confidante" of Imran. With Munir at the helm, ISI was accused of muzzling the press, trying to skew elections, and intensifying a crackdown against human rights groups. After the ISI stint, he was posted as Gujranwala Corps commander, before being moved to the GHQ as Quartermaster General. He was then promoted to the rank of two-star general in September 2018, he took charge two months later.

Anwar Ibrahim (R) leaves after meeting with Malaysia's King on Thursday | AFP

Malaysian political crisis ends as Anwar Ibrahim becomes PM

KUALA LUMPUR

MALAYSIA'S perennial opposition leader Anwar Ibrahim was sworn in as prime minister before the king in Kuala Lumpur Thursday, ending a five-day political impasse after inconclusive polls.

The ceremony at the National Palace closed the chapter on one of the most dramatic elections in Malaysia's history, after no party managed to secure a majority to form a government for the first time since independence in 1957.

Anwar's ascension to the premiership caps a turbulent political life, which has not only propelled him into the corridors of power but also landed him inside a jail cell. "I will not tolerate corruption and abuses ... None should be marginalised under my administration," Anwar told a news conference.

He said his focus would be on the economy. "This is a national unity government. All are welcome, on condition you accept the fundamental rules of good governance, no corruption and Malaysia for all Malaysians," Anwar said. He said his multi-ethnic Pakatan Harapan coalition had been able to secure a majority after gaining seats from old foes in the former ruling bloc Barisan Nasional and another party in Sarawak state on Borneo island.

Anwar's coalition campaigned on an anti-graft message and won the most seats in the election with 82. That was ahead of the 73 won by former prime minister Muhyiddin Yassin's Malay-centric Perikatan Nasional bloc but still well short of the 112 needed for a majority.

Both leaders were summoned by the king this week in an attempt to break the deadlock but no deal could be struck. The king then held a special meeting with other royals on Thursday before the palace announced Anwar as the new premier. Seeking to boost the legitimacy of his appointment, Anwar said his coalition would propose a vote of confidence in parliament on December 19. AFP

French MPs abandon bid to ban bullfighting

Paris: A bid to ban bullfighting in France was abandoned Thursday in parliament, spelling relief for lovers of the traditional blood sport and dismay for animal rights' activists. The 577-seat national assembly had looked set to vote on draft legislation that would have made the practice illegal. Though public opinion is firmly in favour of outlawing the practice, the bill had already been expected to be rejected by a majority of lawmakers who are wary about stirring up the bullfighting heartlands in the south of the country. Around 1,000 bulls are killed each year in France, according to the National Observatory of Bull Cultures.

Sensex hits all-time high of 62,412

Benchmark indices gain as US Federal Reserves hints at slower pace of interest rate hikes

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

BACKED by firm global cues, the BSE Sensex touched a new lifetime high of 62,412.33. The 30-share benchmark rallied 762.10 points or 1.24% to settle at 62,272.68, its record closing peak. During the day, it jumped 901.75 points or 1.46% to its lifetime high of 62,412.33.

The NSE's Nifty50, on the other hand, shut shop 216.85 points or 1.19% higher at 18,484.10. The 50-share index hit a new 52-week high of 18,529.70 during intraday trading session. The two indices' previous high stood at 62,245 (Sensex) and 18,604 (Nifty), touched in October 2021.

The Sensex, up 7% this year so far, has surged maximum among benchmarks in countries that have stock markets valued at least $1 trillion, according to Bloomberg.

The sharp rally in the domestic share market was after minutes from the latest US Federal Reserve meeting showed that most policymakers expect a slower pace of future interest rate hikes. This, according to experts, is a positive sign for risk assets, including equities.

Most global equity benchmarks witnessed a significant buying on Thursday.

"Investors wound up their short positions on expiry day, triggered by US Fed minutes indicating a moderate pace of rate hikes going ahead that eventually propelled Sensex & Nifty to new all-time highs," said Shrikant chouhan, head of equity Research (Retail), Kotak Securities. He added, "Other positive catalysts like WTI crude oil prices staying sluggish and the falling US Dollar index and yields improved the risk appetite of investors leading to a broad-based buying."

Brent crude futures on early Thursday fell 0.3% to $85.13 while the U.S. crude oil futures eased 0.2% to $77.74/barrel. A dip in international oil prices is positive for the Indian economy as it imports about 85% of its requirement.

Tata Group in talks to buy packaged water brand Bisleri

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

TATA GROUP on Thursday said it is in talks with various parties, including Bisleri International Private Limited, for "growth and expansion of its consumer business".

This official admission by Tata comes after veteran industrialist Ramesh Chauhan said that he is scouting for a buyer for his packaged water business -- Bisleri International -- and is in talks with several players, including Tata Consumer Product (TCPL).

"TCPL evaluates various strategic opportunities for growth and expansion of the business of the Company, on an ongoing basis. TCPL remains in discussions with various parties, including Bisleri International," said the Tata Group company in a statement.

Earlier in the day Chauhan, 84, Chairman of Bisleri, said someone has to handle and look into the company as his daughter Jayanti is not interested in handling the business.

He, however, denied reports which said that a 7,000 crore deal has been finalised with TCPL.

Later in a media statement, Bisleri Spokesperson said: "We are currently in discussion and cannot disclose further."

Three decades ago, the Chauhans had sold their soft drinks business to the US beverage major The Coca-Cola Company. He transferred brands such as Thums Up, Gold Spot, Citra, Maaza and Limca in 1993 to Coca-Cola. Of these brands, Thums Up has already become a billion-dollar brand and Coca-Cola expects fruit drinks brand Maaza also to be a billion-dollar brand by 2024. If Tata manages to grab Bisleri, it will make the Tata group the market leader in the fast-growing bottled water segment, giving a boost to its overall consumer business. At present, Bisleri's business has four verticals: Bisleri mineral water, Vedica-Himalyan Spring Water, Fizzy Drinks and Hand Purifiers. TCPL is already present in the packaged bottled water segment with its brand Himalayan. It is also present in the hydration segment with Tata Copper Plus Water and Tata Gluco.

'India's exports to take hit due to global slowdown'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE finance ministry believes the spillover effect of the global slowdown is going to hit India's exports, though it feels that a resilient domestic demand, a re-invigorated investment cycle along with strengthened financial system and structural reforms will provide impetus to economic growth, going forward.

In its monthly economic report, the finance ministry warns of an impending global recession due to a rapid deterioration in global growth prospects, high inflation, and worsening financial conditions. It also sees a future risk in the fact that monetary tightening in the US has not yet resulted in a significant tightening of financial conditions in that country. It, therefore, says when that (financial tightening) happens, global financial conditions will tighten. The report, however, predicts a softening of inflationary pressures going forward. "Easing international commodity prices and new Kharif arrival are set to dampen inflationary pressures in the coming months," says the report. The retail inflation fell below 7% in October to 6.77%. Retail inflation in September was 7.44% and 7.01% in August. The report elaborated on the reason for high food prices in recent past, and the government's efforts to keep food prices in check. "India's food system has also been adversely impacted by the (Russia-Ukraine) conflict and vagaries of nature. Domestic prices of some food items have risen in the wake of the rise in international prices," the report said.

Trade, services sectors demand easing burden of compliances

MONIKA YADAV @ Bengaluru

THE trade and services sector representatives in their pre-budget meeting with finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman have demanded increase in personal tax exemption, deduction thresholds and some measures to boost export sector.

The trade and service sector industry has also made any recommendations with regards to ease of business like linking of PAN and TAN to enable smoothness reconcilion, reducing compliance burden with regard to the maintaining and issuing of TDS/TCS certificates.

The PHD chambers of commerce and industries sought tax rebate benefits on long term durables/real assets to give impetus to demand in the economy.

Vivek Jalan, Chairman - fiscal and taxation affairs committee, The Bengal Chamber of Commerce, said, "There is a big confusion on GST impact on commercial credit notes due to 'post sale discount' wherein the field officers are asking for GST from the recipients of the commercial credit notes. This requires a clarification from the CBIC."

Also, for adoption of green energy, the representatives asked for a special committee to discuss innovative ways of financing to offset the long incubation period. Taxes on biofuels should be nil, they demanded.

He also demanded clear cut guidelines related to conducting inspection, search and seizure under GST, particularly for the established taxpayers. He made a case for increasing the deduction limit and extending the limit for personal tax exemption.

In addition, The Federation of Indian Export Organisations (FIEO) suggested the creation of a fund and availability of credit at affordable rates.

Amazon to shut online learning platform; students to get refund

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

AMAZON on Thursday said it will shut down its online learning platform 'Amazon Academy' in India that it launched early last year.

The ecommerce giant launched the platform during the pandemic period when many edtech companies started seeing growth due to online learning. Formerly called JEE Ready, the platform is for high school students and it offers coaching for competitive exams. An Amazon spokesperson said, "At Amazon, we think big, experiment, and invest in new ideas to delight customers. We continually evaluate the progress and potential of our products and services to deliver customer value and we regularly make adjustments based on those assessments."

The spokesperson added, "Following an assessment we have made the decision to discontinue Amazon Academy. We are winding down this program in a phased manner to take care of current customers."

When the platform's existing batch completes the test preparation module, the firm will slowly discontinue the platform's operation in a phased manner from August next year. Amazon said its services will never have any impact due to this winding up decision and that customers can access the full course material online till October 2024. Those who have enrolled in the current academic batch will get their full fee refund from the platform. This shutdown comes at a time when many edtech firms in India are struggling amid funding winter and macro-economic conditions. Byju's recently announced firing of 2,500 staff. Edtech major Unacademy also said it will fire 10% of its workforce, close to 350 employees. Edtech platform Practically laid off many employees a few months ago. Amazon announced 10,000 job cuts. In Q3 2022, the ecommerce major's operating income fell to $2.5 billion, compared with $4.9 billion in the year-ago period.

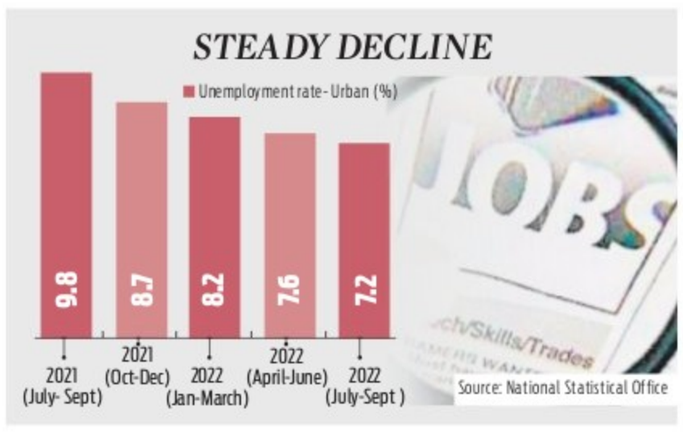
Unemployment rate dips to 7.2% in Sept quarter

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE country's unemployment rate in the quarter ending September 2022 dipped to 7.2% from 9.8% in the same quarter last year on the back of an uptick in economic activity.

The unemployment rate for people aged 15 years and above in urban areas in the previous quarter (April-June 2022) stood at 7.6%, data from the National Statistical Office's (NSO) 16th Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) showed.

The unemployment rate in urban areas among females during the September quarter reduced to 9.4%, from 11.6% in the year-ago period. It was 9.5% in the previous quarter. The unemployment rate is defined as the percentage of persons unemployed among the persons in the labour force.



Among males, joblessness or unemployment rate in the September quarter dipped to 6.6% from 9.3% in the same quarter previous year. In July-September 2021, joblessness was high mainly due to the pandemic.

"The unemployment rate in India was always in the range of 5-6% for 2 decades, however, it spiked during the pandemic as many sectors like manufacturing, infrastructure, hospitality, automobile and insurance were unable to operate normally and struggled to run their businesses," said Aditya Narayan Mishra, MD and CEO of CIEL HR Services.

He added that many lost their jobs during the pandemic period and job creation was also low. "Many contractual workers faced the brunt. Now that the economy is slowly returning to normal, the unemployment rate is also decreasing. Many sectors like hospitality, manufacturing and automobile are performing a lot better at present when compared to the pandemic period," he added.

Also, the Labour Force Participation Rate (LFPR) in urban areas for persons of age 15 years and above stood at 47.9% in the September quarter from 47.5% in the previous quarter.

Indian refiners stand to gain as Brent crude price falls below $85 per bbl

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIAN refiners like Nayara Energy and Indian Oil Corporation are likely to benefit from the sharp fall in crude oil prices recently.

Amid the talks of a price cap on Russian oil by the European countries, oil prices in the international market fell rapidly in the past 2-3 weeks. Brent Crude Future, the benchmark of crude price, was trading at a two-month low at $84.87 (6 pm IST) per barrel, down from $98 a barrel at the start of the month.

Experts reasoned that the prices have declined due to weak consumption data from China. They said it would benefit downstream companies like Nayara Energy, Indian Oil Corporation as they would make profits on sale of both MS (Petrol) and HSD (High Speed Diesel) and recoup some of their losses on auto fuels incurred earlier.

"The realisations and cash accruals of upstream (exploration and production) companies on crude oil sales would be adversely impacted. The price of long-term Brent price linked LNG would decline, benefitting consuming industries such as fertilisers, CGD etc. This would also reduce GoI's subsidy burden on fertiliser sales," said Prashant Vasisht, vice-president & co-Group head - corporate ratings, ICRA Limited.

Gaurav Moda, India Energy Leader, EY, said falling and consistent crude prices are always good news for India, given the country continues to import nearly 80% of its oil requirements.

Qatar FIFA WORLD CUP FINALS 2022

Switzerland's Breel Embolo (L) in action against Cameroon on Thursday | AP

Welcome to the WC of migration

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Chennai

A sweeping Switzerland move, one of the very few clear-cut chances they had in the entire match, was swept home by Breel Embolo in the second-half. Even as his teammates ran towards him to celebrate, Embolo himself wasn't sure whether this occasion was worthy of a celebration. His attempts to mimic his colleagues was half-hearted. Soon enough, his emotion turned. He raised both his hands as if he was saying a sorry. Embolo, of course, had his own reasons for the non-celebration. He was born in Yaounde, Cameroon's capital.

The forward moved to Switzerland early on before joining FC Basel's academy. He had already played for Switzerland's youth teams before, in 2014, declaring that he would play for his adopted country. "This is not a decision against Cameroon, but one for Switzerland," he told Basel's website in 2014. "I hope people will respect and accept my decision."

The complex issue of nationality, migratory patterns and citizenship has frequently spilled into the universe of international football but the ongoing World Cup has seen a spike. 137 players in Qatar — or 16 per cent of all players at the World Cup — will be playing for a country they were not born in. Just to drive home this point, the person who provided the assist for Embolo's goal — Xherdan Shaqiri — was born in Gjilan, Yugoslavia (now Kosovo).

Here's two numbers that paint a picture. In 2014 and 2018, there were 85 and 84 players who represented a nation that they were not in born in. Four years later, this number has increased to 137. Even considering a marginal increase in roster sizes — teams have been allowed to name 26 man-squads rather than the 23 in 2014 and 2018 — that's a significant jump. One of Thursday's other games further illustrates this point. Seven of the 22 starters were born outside the territories controlled by the respective countries, with a further eight named on the substitutes bench.

Result: Switzerland 1-0 Cameroon

There are several reasons why international football doesn't mimic the global migration pattern. In the beginning of 2020, the World Economic Forum (WEF) pegged the number of migrants at 272 mn (3.5 per cent of the global population). Firstly, there is an inequality in talent hotbeds. Brazil was once considered as the global talent factory when it came to producing young footballers at an industrial level. In the 21st century, France has taken over that moniker. The country, ESPN noted in an article in 2019, "... 52 French-born players present in Russia for the tournament, making it the fourth successive World Cup at which France has supplied more players than any other competing nation. More than a quarter of the players whose teams reached the semifinals had come through French youth academies, while a study published by the CIES Football Observatory in May this year revealed that France is the second-biggest global exporter of professional footballers behind Brazil."

No surprises to see that it has retained that place in Qatar as well. 37 players born in France play for other countries in Qatar. You then come to the question of convenience or desire to play international football or to go back to their roots. While the world governing body for football, FIFA, have tightened regulations (it's a far cry from the time when Luis Monti played two World Cup finals for two different countries in the 1930s), it gives players the chance to move freely

An immediate example of this was in the identity of one of the substitutes on the Ghana bench. Exciting wing-back Tariq Lamptey, who was born in England. Lamptey burst into the limelight as a youth product at Chelsea before he moved to Brighton to seek first-team opportunities. At Brighton, he put in a series of eye-catching performances. While England were aware of his potential — he has played in a number of developmental sides — Ghana, aware of his heritage, approached him.

WORLD CUP FEVER

South Korea fans ahead of their team's match against Uruguay at the Education City Stadium in Al Rayyan, Qatar, on Thursday | AP

England XI: Picford (1), Trippier (12), Stones (5), Maguire (6), Shaw (3), Bellingham (22), Rice (4), Saka (17), Mount (19), Sterling (10), Kane (9).

USA XI: Turner (1), Dest (2), Zimmerman (3), Ream (13), Robinson (5) McKennie (8), Adams (4), Reyna (7), Weah (21), Sargent (24), Pulisic (10).

MATCH POINT

England can rubber-stamp their entry into the last 16 while the US need a result. A look...

FOCUS ON KANE

England scored six against Iran without Harry Kane getting on the score-sheet. The thing, though, is that the forward is so much more than goals. His ability to play the final pass, set-piece prowess as well as holding the ball... it's a skill-set nobody else in the side does. He had an injury scare, so what shape will he be in?

BACK-FOUR AGAIN?

Gareth Southgate sprung a surprise by naming a back-four. He was more attacking when his default setting is pragmatic. Chances are he could again name a back-four as England know another win will seal qualification to the knock-out stages ahead of schedule.

US' ENERGY

The US team showed what they were about in the first half against Wales, their energy and intensity causing all sorts of problems. Yet, that dissipated the moment Wales changed shape. Can the team marry that intensity while accounting for in-game changes. That's the big question.

PULISIC HOLDS KEY

It's yet to happen for Cristian Pulisic in England but he's a more confident player for US. He drives at the opposition and the weight on his pass is sumptuous like he showed for the assist against Wales. England do have slow centre-backs so Pulisic can unpick the lock.

Portugal players celebrate Rafael Leao's goal against Ghana in Doha on Thursday. Portugal won 3-2 | AP

PORTU-GOAL

Ronaldo record among three goals against Ghana in Group H thriller

AGENCIES @ Doha

CRISTIANO Ronaldo closed his eyes, took in a deep breath and then made World Cup history.

The Portugal striker became the first male player to score at five World Cups with his 65th-minute penalty in a 3-2 win over Ghana on Thursday.

Andre Ayew equalized for Ghana eight minutes later, but Joao Felix regained the lead for Portugal in the 78th and Rafael Leao added a third. Osman Bukari reduced Ghana's deficit in the 89th.

The 37-year-old Ronaldo was looking to showcase his talents to potential new clubs after having his contract terminated at Manchester United this week. After wasting two good chances in the first half, he tumbled under a challenge by Ghana defender Mohammed Salisu to earn a penalty.

Wheeling away after the ball struck the back of the net, a smiling Ronaldo performed his usual leap and swivel in the air — the crowd roared his trademark "SI-UUU" as he did the pirouette — before getting mobbed by teammates.

He has now scored in every World Cup since his first in 2006 and has a record 118 international goals.

It was a wild finish to a slow-burner of a World Cup match that ended with Portugal defender Danilo clearing the ball away from near the line in the ninth minute of stoppage time. Ronaldo, who was sitting in the dugout after being substituted, put his hand on his head in relief. Ronaldo, naturally, took centrestage at the start of his fifth and likely last World Cup, particularly after a fraught buildup to the tournament in which he gave an unauthorized, tell-all interview criticizing Manchester United's manager, owners and teammates. On Tuesday, he split with the English club, meaning he is in the shop window in Qatar.

South Korea hold Uruguay

Son Heung-min could not inspire South Korea as the Tigers of Asia started their Group H campaign with a 0-0 draw against Uruguay. Uruguay captain Diego Godin and Real Madrid midfielder Federico Valverde came closest to scoring when hitting the woodwork in each half, while Hwang Ui-jo wasted Korea's best chance, skying a shot from 10 yards out.

QUICK PASSES

Dutch won't mirror Germany

DOHA: Netherlands coach Louis van Gaal has confirmed his team will not mirror Germany's mouth-covering protest against Ecuador on Friday. Germany performed the gesture during their team photo prior to Wednesday's 2-1 defeat against Japan. The Dutch camp has said they will not discuss any issues other than football since they invited a group of migrant workers to a training session at their base in Doha last week.

Delaney out with knee injury

COPENHAGEN: Denmark midfielder Thomas Delaney is out of the World Cup after picking up a knee injury during his team's opening goalless draw with Tunisia. "We'll miss him, both on and off the pitch," said coach Kasper Hjulmand in a statement. "Our other players are ready and we have a strong squad for the coming matches." Delaney will miss Denmark's remaining Group D fixtures against France and Australia.

Qatar must find A Game: Coach

DOHA: Qatar coach Felix Sanchez hopes his team can bring their "A Game" against Senegal as the host nation battle to avoid setting an unwanted World Cup record. "We hope that now we are free from all the pressure that we had in the opening match," he said. "I hope we can compete and bring our 'A Game' and show that we can be more competitive than we were the other day."

TODAY'S MATCHES

WALES vs IRAN — 3.30 PM

MOORE SHOULD START

While the evergreen Gareth Bale scored the equaliser against US, it was forward Kieffer Moore who changed the tune of the game. He brought in players, held the ball well and caused confusion. He should be start.

BACK PROBLEMS

Iran's copybook was blotted thanks to an England team who had a fun outing. Yet, part of it was thanks to an Iran team who were meek. The task, then, for coach Carlos Quieroz is to begin from the back.

QATAR vs SENEGAL — 6.30 PM

ONLY WAY IS UP

The hosts are Asian champions so it's highly possible they were very nervous on the opening night. They have to tell themselves the only way is up and shake off that defeat. A loss will mean they will become just the second hosts to bow out in the group stage.

MORE OF THE SAME, WITH GOALS

Senegal caught the eye against Netherlands. They did everything right, apart from putting the ball into the net. They will believe that they have a decent chance of winning the game to keep alive their chances.

NETHERLANDS vs ECUADOR — 9.30 PM

NEED TO DO MORE WITH THE BALL

Netherlands ultimately got past Senegal but it wasn't the greatest performance. They were sloppy, under-cooked passes and were sloppy in the defensive third. Time to redress.

INJURY DOUBTS OVER VALENCIA

Ecuador have a robust looking midfield but they depend on skipper Enner Valencia for the goal-scoring. He scored a brace on opening night but went off with an injury. For Ecuador's sake, they need him back.

Expensive and remote desert camps for WC fans

AP @ Al Khor

FOR scores of foreign soccer fans, the road to the World Cup in Doha starts every morning at a barren campsite in the middle of the desert. Visitors who found hotels in central Doha booked up or far beyond their budget have settled for the faraway, dust-blown tent village in Al Khor, where there are no locks on tents nor beers on draft.

Others simply wanted an adventure. On Wednesday a DJ blasted electronic dance music around a fire pit as a smattering of fans lounged on beanbags, sipped sodas and gazed up at big screens roughly an hour from Doha.

"I'm here because I couldn't find anywhere else," said Haidar Haji, a 27-year-old architectural engineer from Kuwait. He said it was a pain to trek into Doha every morning from the tent village, but he had no other option. "The hotels were just too expensive. It was crazy."

Accommodation tents are at a camp site in Al Khor, Qatar | AP

Even so, Al Khor fan village is not cheap. Haji said he's paying $450 a night for his sparse makeshift shelter, which authorities advertise as a "perfect destination for a truly enjoyable and lavish stay." The tents are equipped with plumbing and basic furniture. The site has a swimming pool and upscale Arabic restaurant.

At Al Khor Village, many fans complained about the isolation, and lack of alcohol. "Honestly, you can find more alcohol in Tehran," said Parisa, a 42-year-old Iranian oil worker who declined to give her last name. Paola Bernal from Tabasco, southern Mexico, wasn't sure what to expect from the first World Cup in the Middle East. But she said she's been surprised by how long it takes to traverse the world's tiniest host country. The buses from the campsite are a "mess," she said, and stop running at 10 pm, forcing fans to fork out large sums for Uber rides.

Promising Spain bring back the 'tiki-taka'

BY TALES AZZONI @ Doha

IT was a World Cup win fit for a king.

Literally. King Felipe VI was among those congratulating Spain in Qatar after its 7-0 rout of Costa Rica in the World Cup opener Wednesday, when "La Roja" reintroduced the "tiki-taka" and put on a masterclass of ball possession and efficient attacking to get off to a good start in its quest to win a second world title.

The historic victory raised expectations about Spain's chances of succeeding in Qatar and winning soccer's most coveted trophy for the first time since 2010, when Xavi and Andrés Iniesta were the leaders of the ball-possession style that amazed the soccer world.

"Keep singing," King Felipe VI told the players as he entered Spain's locker room at the Al Thumama Stadium after the match. "We've enjoyed it, as did everybody else. More than the result, it was delightful to watch you play."

Spain are led by a couple of teenage sensations who have added some punch to the "tiki-taka" style. Gavi and Pedri, along with a group of other talented youngsters making their World Cup debut, provide speed and energy to go along with the constant rapid passing and ball control inherent to the style.

"The idea was for all the players in the midfield to have a lot of touches, and from there the quality of our players prevailed," Spain coach Luis Enrique said.

Spain completed a record 1,003 passes for a 90-minute game on Wednesday, and finished with 75% of ball possession. It had 17 attempts against zero by Costa Rica.

"Our only goal is to control the game continuously, and to do that you need to have the ball," Luis Enrique said. "The rival gets frustrated and struggles to find space. We were exceptional with how we pressured."

The 18-year-old Gavi and the 19-year-old Pedri controlled the pace of the match along with veteran Sergio Busquets, the only remaining member of the 2010 World Cup-winning squad. Up front, the 22-year-old Ferran Torres, along with Dani Olmo and Marco Asensio, worked aggressively off the ball to quickly regain possession.

"It was a match in which we came out strong and went for the victory from the very first minute," said Gavi, who was named the most valuable player and scored in the 74th minute to become the youngest World Cup scorer since Pelé in 1958. AP

Iran arrests footballer over 'anti-state propaganda'

Iranian security forces on Thursday arrested ex-national football player Voria Ghafouri over accusations that he spread "propaganda" against the Islamic republic, Fars news agency reported. He was detained after a training session with his club Foolad Khuzestan on charges of having "tarnished the reputation of the national team," the agency said.

English flavour on global stage

Players based in England dominate World Cup, something that has been a trend due to increasing financial power of clubs

VISHNU PRASAD

AS South Korea took to the field against Uruguay on Thursday, their fans were anxiously waiting to make sure that there was one name on the starting list. To their relief, their captain Son Heung-min took to the field in a protective mask, as he continues to recover from a facial injury. On the other side of the half-line, all eyes were on Darwin Nunez, Uruguay's main goal-threat.

That they were their respective team's talisman was not the only thing that linked Son and Nunez. When Qatar 2022 is finally done and dusted, they will both be boarding a flight to the same country to resume their club careers — England. Such is the influence of the world's most popular league on the World Cup, that this one common thread will link together two players in most games of this tournament.

Qatar and Saudi Arabia are the only two countries without an England-based player in their respective line-ups — neither of them have selected any players plying their trade abroad. Apart from them, every team has, at the very least, a tinge of an English flavour. Qatar's opponents in the opener, Ecuador, had Brighton's Pervis Estupinan and Moises Caicedo playing prominent roles. In the next game, Iran opted not to throw on Brentford's Saman Ghoddos against England. The captains shaking hands before the Netherlands-Senegal encounter were Liverpool's Virgil Van Dijk and Chelsea's Kalidou Koulibaly. As Argentina conceded two in quick succession against Saudi, fans were questioning why Manchester United's Lisandro Martinez had not started. Images like these can be conjured up from every game in the World Cup's group stages, bar the six featuring Saudi and Qatar. With a whopping 164 players, England-based clubs have contributed almost a quarter of the on-field manpower. For reference, Spanish and German clubs, who are second and third respectively in this regard, have a combined contribution of 166 players!

And not all of them are from the English Premier League. England's second tier — the Championship — has more representatives in Qatar than the Belgian First Division A, the Dutch Eredivisie and the Portuguese Primeira Liga. Even the League One — England's fourth tier — have a couple of representatives at the World Cup.

This English dominance is a progressive trend. In France '98, the first World Cup with 32, English clubs accounted for just ten per cent of the players. Four years later in Japan and South Korea, it had crept up to fourteen. By the time Brazil 2014 came along, this ratio was just over sixteen. And in 2022, English clubs have more than double the number of representatives than what they had in 1998. The most obvious explanation to this is the increasing financial power of English sides, due to the mammoth television revenue that they generate. Former Ajax director of football Marc Overmars once suggested that Dutch clubs cannot compete financially with England's second tier, let alone the Premier League. Naturally, for the Championship's domestic television deal eclipses that of the Eredivisie. Factor in parachute payments to relegated clubs that stretch over several years, and his statement ceases to be surprising.

It still remains to be seen if England's much-fancied team can end their 56-year drought on the world stage. But even if football fails to make it, it is certain that at least a couple of winner's medals are coming home.

MATTER OF FACTS

1986
Though Argentina emerged victorious in the FIFA World Cup, it was England's Gary Lineker who won the Golden Boot.

1938
Austria had qualified for the World Cup. However, Adolf Hitler annexed Austria less than 3 months before WC started. Thus, participating teams were cut short from 16 to 15 teams.

Turkey's Hakan Sukur has scored the fastest ever goal in a world cup. In 2002, Turkey was playing against South Korea, it took Sukur only 10.89 seconds to score after kick-off.

Canada's 36-yr long wait for win continues

RONALD BLUM @ Doha

O CANADA, the wait remains.

Alphonso Davies had the chance to score his nation's first-ever World Cup goal, to grab a quick lead on Belgium. As Davies readied for the spot kick in the 11th minute after a hand ball, red-clad Canadian fans at the other end of Ahmed bin Ali Stadium buzzed in anticipation for a moment decades in the making. "You're carrying the weight of a nation: 36 years of waiting — longer than 36 for our first goal," coach John Herdman said.

Goalkeeper Thibaut Courtois guessed correctly to dive right and batted Davis' attempt with his forearm. The ball bounced away, and the Canadians never got any closer to scoring.

Despite dominating the world's second-ranked team in Canada's first World Cup match since 1986, the Canadians fell to Belgium 1-0 Wednesday night as Michy Batshuayi scored on a quick counter in the 44th minute.

Davies did not speak with media after the game. "He's our star player. He's one of the best players in the world. He'll move on and he'll have another chance and he'll bury it," Jonathan Osorio said. "There was also the best goalkeeper in the world in net he had to put it past."

Courtois had studied video of Davies. "He shot twice that side, so that's why I decided to go that way," Courtois said.

A large part of the crowd of 40,432 in the Arabian desert stadium supported Canada. Many waved the Maple Leaf and they proudly sang "O Canada" before the match. AP

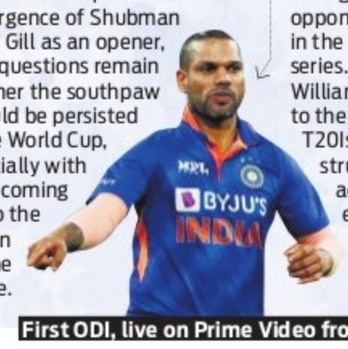
ODI WC preparations begin

With 50-over World Cup less than 11 months away, the three-match ODI series between India and hosts New Zealand starting Friday at Eden Park in Auckland will mark preparations of both teams for the marquee event. A look ...

DHAWAN CONUNDRUM

Shikhar Dhawan, who will be close to 38 during the next year's World Cup scheduled in India, once again will lead the team. He has scored more than 1100 ODI runs since January 2020 and played a lot more matches in the format than regular skipper Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli in the said period. With the emergence of Shubman Gill as an opener, questions remain whether the southpaw would be persisted till the World Cup, especially with Rohit coming back to the team in the future.



CAN NZ BOUNCE BACK?

The visitors had won the rain-marred T20I series 1-0. The Kiwis, however, can take inspiration from their previous series at home against India where they lost T20I series 5-0 but came back strongly to drub their opponents 3-0 and 2-0 in the ODIs and Test series. Kane Williamson will return to the squad and unlike T20Is where he struggled for acceleration, he is expected to strengthen the team's batting line-up.
